THE WEATHER.
U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., Aug. 18, 1892.

The storm which was central over South Dakota has moved northeastward, and is central over Lake Superior. It has increased in energy, and has, and will continue to cause severe local squalls over the upper lakes.

The area of high pressure which was central over the extreme northwest has advanced rapidly to the south and east, and extends as far east as Minnesota, and southward to Missouri.

The advance of this high has caused the temperature to fall 10 degrees or more over the country which it covers, and it will be felt in this section. A decided change may be looked for on Friday.

The temperature over the eastern half of the country has remained stationary. Rains have fallen over Montana, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, and over the entire northwest territories.

Rains are indicated over the upper lake region to-day.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity for the next 36 hours—Fair, followed by rain; continued warm to-day, and decidedly cooler weather to-morrow.

The Whole New York Militia

Will Be Sent to Buffalo at Once.

They Were Ordered Under Arms After Midnight.

The Lake Shore Switchmen Join the Strikers,

And More Threaten to Go Out, Thus Complicating the Situation—The Latest News.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The sixth day of the railroad strike dawned upon a situation that is most grave and threatening. There are two new features this morning: At 10:30 all the Lake Shore switchmen at East and South Buffalo struck and the Lackawanna men are restless and the sheriff has asked the governor to call out the entire national guard for the protection of railroad property. After declining, on the ground that it would involve a needless expense to the county, the railroads' request was acceded to at midnight, and a dispatch signed by Sheriff Back and Mayor Bishop was sent to the chief executive of the state. Troops are being mobilized and soon Buffalo will be little more than a hugh barracks. Among railroad men the feeling is "now or never" as regards organized labor. It is looked upon by them as a fight to the death, in the light of their experience of two years ago with the New York and also with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

A conference between the representatives of the tied-up lines was held at midnight and a formal and urgent demand was made upon the sheriff to call for more troops.

General Doyle sent the following letter to the sheriff and Sheriff Beck received it while at the conference with the railroad officials:

To August Beck, sheriff of Erie county, and Charles F. Bishop, mayor of the city of Buffalo.

"Gentlemen: I hereby state and declare that, after being two days in command of troops at East Buffalo and Cheektowaga, necessitated by the pending railroad troubles, in my opinion the governor should be required to call out the entire national guard of the state in order to protect lives and property involved in this strike.

"(Signed) Peter C. Boyle,
"Brigadier-General."

This letter, with the pleas of the conference prevailed with the sheriff, and moved him and the mayor to make the required demand upon the governor for more militia. Ten minutes after the militia had been sent Mr. Webb received a telephone message from Gen. Porter saying he was preparing the orders as rapidly as possible, and that when the papers were ready the governor would be awakened and his signature be obtained. Shortly before 3 o'clock word was received that the governor had signed the papers.

It was about 4:30 o'clock this morning when the Lake Shore switchmen went out. Shortly before 1 o'clock the New York Central ordered to the Lake Shore yards at East Buffalo two freight trains and the crews in that yard refused to handle it. The yardmaster at once discharged them and the rest of the men followed them. There are about 200 switchmen employed in the yards. Word was at once sent to the camp and Col. Welch aroused. He ordered a company under arms to go to the yards. General Superintendent Blodgett was on the spot and at once prepared to protect the property of the company. This morning a formal notice will be served on the authorities holding the county responsible for the safety of the company's property.

The agreement with the switchmen of Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg was signed last night, and the men are again at work.

At 2:30 this morning a report was current that the Lackawanna and Nickel Plate men had gone out. Investigation shows that they are still working, but no one can tell what will happen. The meeting of Division No. 187 of the Brotherhood of Trainmen last night did not conclude until after midnight. The discussion was loud and animated, and occasional outbursts of cheers attracted attention on the streets. Of course the session was strictly private, but it was freely rumored on the outside that the trainmen, as well as the firemen, stand ready to join the strikers should further measures be deemed necessary. Rumors are also prevalent that the engineers are in sympathy with the strike and may join it.

presented a peaceful appearance last night and not a ripple of trouble occurred to mar the slumber of the tired out soldiers. Nothing but the solemn and silent march of the sentries and the glistening of the electric lights on their bayonets indicated that it was the scene of a military camp. So quiet was the night that Gen. Doyle placed Col. Welch in command and came to the city and went to bed. Here and there on the outskirts of the camp lines could be seen the pickets of the strikers keeping watch of the movements of the soldiers in the shadows of the camp. Occasionally a train would go through the silent yards with a roar and a rumble and a swishing of the train made every man in camp turn over and take another grip on his knap. The strikers had a regular code for the torpedo signals and they kept each other informed of their whereabouts by exploding them. And so the night wore on until the camp woke this morning to learn that the governor had ordered the entire state militia under arms ready to start for Buffalo at a moment's notice.

But if Camp Lehigh was asleep there were many people concerned in the strike who were wide awake and busy the long night. Mr. Webb and other railroad managers and their lawyers were at it the greater part of the night arranging for putting men to work on their lands today.

All the while this was going on the strikers' end of this remarkable labor drama was busy. Grand Master Sweeney and his men were in conference, Grand Master Wilkinson was conferring with representatives of the local trainmen's unions and the arbitration committee was laboring among themselves and the strikers and accomplishing nothing at all.

In addition to this the firemen's union was in session endeavoring to straighten out their tangle, and Chief Arthur, of the locomotive engineers, was speeding toward Buffalo as fast as a train could carry him. Within twelve hours all the labor leaders will have assembled here and the exact situation will be known.

THE TROOPS.

They Have Been Ordered to the Scene of the Trouble.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Adjt. Gen. Porter and all the attaches of the office are very reticent this morning. He, however, still insists that up to 2 o'clock he had not issued a call for any troops outside of the Buffalo brigade. At 2:30 this morning he received a telegram from the sheriff of Erie and several from the railroads, including a telephone message from Mr. Webb asking him to send more troops as the men on the Lake Shore road were out and trouble was feared.

After receiving a like dispatch from Gen. Doyle, in command at Buffalo, the adjutant general sent out a general order putting the entire national guard of the state under arms ready to be moved at a moment's notice. Later he sent orders to two New York regiments, the Twelfth and Twenty-second, one Brooklyn regiment, the Tenth battalion at Albany and separate companies as follows: Two at Troy, two at Poughkeepsie, two at Schenectady, one each at Yonkers, Watertown, Hoosic Falls, Hudson and Kingston to be ready to march at an instant's notice. The adjutant general then retired, but was up again at 9 o'clock. He positively refused to say at what time the troops under arms would leave for Buffalo, but the Tenth battalion here was under instructions to move at once. General Porter, when asked what companies would go first, said: "I decline to say. You must get your information from the railroad companies."

At the adjutant general's office the attaches professed ignorance of the movements of the militia, and Military Secretary Judson disclaimed any knowledge of what action the adjutant general was taking. Gov. Flower said tersely: "He has my order to move as many troops as he thinks necessary to protect lives and property."

THE SITUATION.

Soldiers and Men Quiet but Watching Each Other Closely.

Buffalo, Aug 18.—There was not a ripple of excitement this morning in the Central, Erie, West Shore, Lehigh, Lake Shore and other freight yards at East Buffalo. Soldiers were everywhere and sentries, footsore and weary paced up and down the hot tracks. But few strikers were to be seen. They attempted no violence. There were altogether too many soldiers on hand for them to do anything of that sort. They stood around in little knots whispering to each other mysteriously, gut they were not making any threats.

There is a blockade of freight that from present appearances will take weeks to remove. Only perishable freight is receiving any attention and that is getting very little. The Central, West Shore, Erie, Lake Shore, and Lehigh Valley yards are simply choked up and glutted with freight cars. Every track is filled with long strings of freights. The engines are idle and the crews pass the time discussing the issues of the strike and wondering what the next move is to be. Only the main tracks are kept open and this is a difficult job. So far there is no delay to passenger trains. They are coming in and going out on schedule time. The strikers say they will not bother them. The soldiers have strict orders not to admit anybody except those who really have business there of importance and these are cross-questioned and only admitted inside the lines on passes. There are guards everywhere in fact. The big Central freight yards are also well taken care of.

The police commissioners are busy this morning in swearing in specals for duty in East Buffalo. Up to date 200 men have taken the oath and 100 will be added to-day. Chairman Illig says the commissioners have plenty of men at their command and that 1,000 will be sworn in if necessary.

The strike on the Lake Shore resulted in a tie-up of all freight traffic this morning but trains were leaving and arriving nearly on time. Militiamen are stationed at points through the yards and at the Exchange street depot, but they were few in number. The yards are glutted with freight and passenger trains glide between them like tapes.

A Rochester and Pittsburg passenger train tried to run in at 8:20, but was obliged to back out again. There was much difficulty entering the Exchange street depot. The big train house was glutted with cars, the switchmen at work were green hands and they had the difficulty naturall to be expected from inexperienced men. So far no disposition toward violence has been manifested at this point and such gree hands as are at work are attending to their duties under military guard.

The Erie began to move freight this morning. When trainmaster Barnett told Col. Welch he wanted soldiers to accompany them and that officer detailed two companies to go with the trains. The soldiers accompanied the trains to Attica and there left them, the trainmen saying they could get through all right. More trains will go east to-day. The Lackawanna switchmen are still at work at 11 o'clock. The yard foreman told the United Press reporter that the men were all at work as usual. "We are handling our own cars, but not any cars of other roads," he said. "We are getting along fairly well."

At the same hour, at the Nickel Plate offices it was stated that their switchmen were all at work. "Whether they will go out," said the official in charge, "we don't know."

"We are doing business," said a Reading official this noon. This is the day set by President McLeod for a general resumption of traffic on the Reading system.

"What do you call doing business?" was asked.

"I mean we are moving trains."

"Reporters at East Buffalo do not say so."

"Nevertheless, we are doing so. We sent out three trains this morning. At 9:50 a general freight left for Hornellsville; at 10:20 another went out in the same direction, and at the same time a freight left the yards for Suspension Bridge. We have night yard engineers at work. We made our regular morning delivery to the Nickel Plate and are doing work as usual at our lake elevators on the Tifft farm."

The Reading officials have put out a circular saying the strike was plotted at Waverly on July 22, and that the demands were made to provoke a strike and if granted new ones would be made.

At 10:30 the Sixty-fifth regiment changed its headquarters from "Camp Lehigh" to Colson and Dingon streets, where the big Lehigh trestles are.

Charles O'Hara, of the Forty-eighth separate company of Oswego, was killed at 11:45 this morning on the New York Central tracks at Curtis street. He was run over by a train. He had been repeatedly warned not to jump on cars or crawl under them, but he disregarded the warning.

Reports from the Black Rock yards at noon say everything is quiet there. The strikers are unlike those at East Buffalo. They do not hang about the yards. There is not a striker to be seen anywhere. Up to noon the Erie had not moved a freight. They expect to do some moving sometime to-day. Agent Riley has asked for police protection in case the strikers should show up when the freight is being moved. There are nine men out on the Erie at Black Rock, two day crews and one night crew. There is very little freight in the Erie yards at present.

There is nothing doing in the Central yards either, except a load of hogs brought over from the Grand Trunk and switched on a side track, where it remains. The strikers number about 15. This afternoon an effort will be made to move some of the freight, such as perishable goods and ice.

A dispatch from Lockport says: The strike of the switchmen does not affect the lines running into this city. The switchmen employed here on the Central road are all non-union men, so there is no chance of the strike reaching this city. At the Erie everything is quiet.

Commissioners Purcell, Donovan and Robertson, labor arbitrators, were seen at the Broezel house this morning. None of them appeared at all sanguine of results and although they all had hopes, none appeared to have any postive expectations behind them. Mr. Purcell was most conservative in his statements and appeared decidedly 'oth to be interviewed. "When we have anything to communicate," he said, "I shall be glad to state it. We had a conference with the railroad people, but it was unproductive of results. We sought them and not they us. We have received word from Mr. Sweeney that his men would arbitrate their differences and we wanted to get the parties interested together."

"Will there be any sequel to the conference?"

"I do not know. Nothing was said by the railroad people when we parted leading us to suppose they desire to confer with us further. I cannot predict as to the outlook. We have not been very successful in arbitrating labor troubles on the railroads because the railroad people are very stiff about anything savoring of being dictated to. In other directions this board has settled important difficulties, notably the 10,000 laundrymen's strike at Troy. We shall stay here as long as we think we have any chance of being useful"

Arbitrator Donovan had a more spirited story to tell. He said among other things: "We had a conference wit hall the railroads except the Erie yesterday, which led to nothing. I do not see any particularly bright prospects ahead. It looks to me like a determined battle to the bitter end. The railroad people, I feel sure, are resolvd not to yield any points and the men are equally firm. The outlook is not bright. I have not seen Mr. Sargent or Mr. Wilkinson, of the firemen and trainmen's organizations, and if they are in the city I am surprised not to have seen them. They are both intelligent men. I hope to settle thes difficulis by arbitration, but I greatly doubt that we will succeed in doing so.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS.

How the Soldiers Are Being Sent Into Buffalo.

New York, Aug. 18.—In accordance with the request of the sheriff received by adjt.-Gen. Porter at 2:30 this morning, he has ordered 1,200 men to Buffalo. The detail comprises two regments from New York; Tenth battalion, Albany, and several companies from Troy, Hudson, Poughkeepsie, Yonkers, Schenectady, Catskill and Watertown. The adjutant-general will probably accompany the troops.

Albany, N. Y., Aug 18.—The Tenth battalion, 200 strong, left for Buffalo at 10:15 this morning. It is rumored here that New York Central men at West Albany will refuse to handle freight that comes from the striking roads. There are 300 men here.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The Forty-sixth, separate company, left for Buffalo at 11:35 this morning in response to orders from Adjt.-Gen. Porter.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The Forty-fourth separate company has been ordered to Buffalo and is now under arms, 70 strong. The company will leave on the train bearing the Sixth company of Troy, and will probably be made a part of the Tenth battalion. The Twenty-eighth separate company has received no orders.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The Thirteenth regiment marched out of the armory on Flatbush avenue at 10:40 this morning under command of Col. Austin. Out of a possible 650 men in the regiment 600 were in the ranks. Each man had 20 rounds of ball cartridges. The regiment left the Grand Central depot, New York, about noon for Buffalo. The other regiments in Brooklyn, the Twenty-third, Fourteenth and Forty-seventh, are under waiting orders.

IN THE YARDS.

A Monster Blockade of Freight That Cannot Be Moved.

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—A batallion of about 400 men was sent to the Central yards by General Doyle this morning. The men are distributed around the yards from Williams street to Cheektowaga. A few yard men were moving cars in the Central yards but their efforts to untie the tangled freight cars were of little consequence.

Trainmaster Thomas Maloney has been placed in entire charge of the Central yards until the trouble is over. He said he had lots of men to put to work and just as soon as he was assured proper protection would place them at work. He was positive the Central yards would be relieved of its pressure in quick time.

A serious state of affairs exists at the stock yards at East Buffalo. Only a few cars of live stock arrived this morning and considerable difficulty was experienced before they could be unloaded. The Lake Shore tracks are blocked with freight cars and no effort can be made to clear them.

A switch engine is there but it could not clear the tracks and make way for the cattle cars to come in. The dealers in livestock say that their business is at a standstill. They have telegraphed all shippers not to send any more stock, as they cannot get it yarded. There are over 60 cars of live stock stalled at Angola with no prospects of their being speedily removed. The stock was brought in last night, and if something is not done very soon there is likely to be a big loss of stock.

COMPARED WITH HOMESTEAD.

Some Very Similar Moves Being Made by Both Sides.

New York, Aug. 18.—The World this morning says: "The Central people are pursuing much the same plans that were put in operation at Homestead. Several of their agents have been about the town wards for the past 24 hours engaging the services of stalwart young men who have a reputation for being able to take care of themselves. These men have been engaged as watchmen to protect the property. One hundred left for Buffalo at 4:30 and 20 more at 6 p. m.

"Representatives of the labor organizations met the men and discussed the situation with them. All agreed that they would do nothing to interfere with the cause of labor; that they would not raise their hands against laboring men and that they would refuse to wear weapons if asked."

OFF FOR BUFFALO.

That City Will Have in it Plenty of Soldiers by Night.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18.—At 10 o'clock the Tenth battalion, 200 strong, left for Buffalo and the Twenty-first and Sixth separate companies of Troy, accompanied them. Later a detachment of men from the Twenty-first company came down and were sent on the Empire State express to catch the special at Utica. The whole detail will number about 300 men.

Two or three men are in jail here for refusing to accompany the troops. Adjutant General Porter is still here.

Gov. Flower read all of the dispatches sent from Buffalo by the United Press, but had no comments to make.

Superintendent Harrington, of the Central road, denied the rumor that the West Albany employes would strike in sympathy. He said: "There is no trouble east of Buffalo, and not even a rumor of a strike is heard here. I don't anticipate any trouble here."

THE PIONEERS

Holding a Big Reunion at Liberty Center.

The Early Settlers of Lucas County Meet and Talk Over Old Times.

Liberty Center, Aug. 18.—(Special)—The twenty-ninth reunion of the Maumee Valley Pioneer association opened in this city this morning in the grove east of town with about 400 people present. One hundred and sixty-five came over the Wabash special.

The meeting opened with an authem by the Glee club. The invocation was by Rev. R. E. Woodruff.

An address of welcome was delivered by Capt. Bowker and responded to by Frank J. Scott.

Mr. C. C. Young, of Liberty Center, is chairman of the reception committee and master of ceremonies.

Memorials of deceased members were read by Secretary Smith.

The Maumee Valley Pioneer association was organized in 1864, at the court house in this city. The Hon. E. D. Potter was called to the chair and Henry Bennett was appointed secretary.

On motion of Jesup W. Scott a committee was appointed to report a constitution and by-laws. The committee was J. W. Scott, Sanford L. Collins and Richard Mott.

The constitution provided that the oldest resident member should be president. Under this rule, Peter Navarra, a French resident on the Bay shore, and who had been one of General Harrison's scouts in the Fort Meigs campaign, was the first president. The first vice presidents were Horatio Conant, Nathaniel A. Blinn and Oscar White. Henry Bennett was first secretary; James M. Comstock, treasurer. The executive committee was E. D. Potter, Samuel B. Scott and Noah A. Whitney.

Of all the above named gentlemen, only Hon. E. D. Potter survives. The others have fallen asleep. Here is a list of some of the original members, with dates of their first residence: John E. Hunt, born at Fort Wayne, in 1798, but a permanent resident from 1816; R. A. Forsyth, 1816; Isaac Hull, 1814; Dr. Oscar White, 1828; Henry Bennett, 1833; Sanford L. Collins, 1831; John W. Collins, 1834; Nathaniel D. Blinn, 1825; J. A. Scott, 1833; J. W. Scott, 1833; Mayor Brigham, 1835; James Myers, 1836; M. R. Waite, 1838; Dennison B. Smith, 1836; Samuel B. Scott, 1835; Willard N. Way, 1834; John Bates, 1832; Jams M. Comstock, 1836; Horace Sessions, 1833; Wm. E. Holgate, 1836; S. A. Raymond, 1839; Chas. N. Jenison, 1818; M. L. Collins, 1834; Henry Reedsen, 1833; Wm. Prentice, 1818; Peter J. Phillips, 1825; Frederick Bissell, 1835; C. M. Dorr, 1837; Luther Whitmore, 1825; Richard Mott, 1836; E. D. Potter, 1835.

Of the above named the following are believed to be living: E. D. Potter, Luther Whitmore, Chas. Jenison, Samuel A. Raymond, Dennison B. Smith, Mayor Brigham.

The present object of the association is, of course, first to promote warm and friendly fellowship, and to preserve the records of early events in the Valley. Ultimately it is hoped to blossom out into an historical society corresponding to that of Buffalo, and Toledo is the point for such concentration.

Some of the early members, many of whom are now deceased, are: Miller Arrowsmith, of Defiance, 1833; Geo. Allen, 1834, died 1871 at Monclova; Mrs. H. B. Andrews, Wood county, 1823; Samuel Andrews, Toledo, 1835; Wm. G. Alexander, Toledo; Rosantha Atkins, 1823; Benj. L. Abell, Defiance, 1845; Harry Bennett, Toledo, 1833, deceased; N. D. Blinn, 1825, deceased; Mayor Brigham, Toledo, 1835; Calvin K. Bennett, Toledo, 1835; I. R. Bond, Toledo, 1836, deceased; John Bates, Perrysburg, 1832, deceased; Bishop Amasa, 1824; Frederick Bissell, 1835, deceased; A. A. Belknap, Toledo, 1834; Andrew Bloomfield, Perrysburg, 1833, deceased; Gilbert Beach, Perrysburg, 1835, deceased; B. H. Bush, Washington township, 1834, deceased; Sylvester Brown, Washington township, 1831, deceased; A. B. Brownlee, 1835, deceased; Peter F. Berdan, Toledo, 1836, deceased; Charles Ballard, Toledo, 1837; Julius Brown, 1824, deceased; W. H. Bennett, 1833; Richard Bamford, Toledo, 1838, deceased; H. R. I. C. B. U. CONVENTION.

DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The Members Rushing the Work of the Order.

Reports of Committees Made at the Sessions.

Resolutions on Home Rule for Ireland—The Boat Ride—Banquet to the Visitors—Notes.

The second day of the twenty-fourth annual convention of the I. C. B. U. opened with an unusually large attendance at Memorial hall. The various committees were at work all morning, and the committee on amendments to the constitution had a lively session.

The delegates were royally entertained last evening and the members of the I. C. B. U. and the Y. M. C. B. A. were on hand before and after the excursion to look after the wants of the delegates.

Late in the afternoon the executive committee presented its report and it was referred, to come up the first thing this morning. It is as follows:

"The executive committee respectfully report that after the Scranton convention it levied a per capita tax of 7 cents, and at the same time requested a voluntary per capita of 3 cents extra to be applied to the work of organization. From the voluntary tax the sum of $234 was received, showing that about one-half of the members responded to the call. It is believed, however, that this indifference is largely traceable to the officers of societies, as wherever the purpose of the tax was explained it was promptly given. The amount thus received is yet unexpended, and is, therefore, at the disposal of the convention. The special committee authorized to be appointed by the Scranton convention was not called upon to meet with the executive committee for conference as to the best means of promoting the union until just before the meeting of this convention.

"The majority of the executive committee being of the opinion that it would not be judicious to incur the expense of a meeting at any other time, in view of the small amount of money contributed for organization purposes by societies, this committee, composed of Messrs. Kelly, of New Jersey; Flannigan, of Pennsylvania; Larney, of Providence, and Murphy, of Ohio, held a joint meeting on Tuesday, August 16, with the executive committee, and their report will be before you. Seventeen societies were added during the year, and 14 were dropped from the roll. There are now 200 societies on the roll, representing a membership of 18,181. The committee awarded the badge for organizing societies to Thomas Barrett, of East Canada, he having organized two societies, no other organizer having organized more than one society.

"The badge of the society showing the largest percentage of increase in members was awarded to the Father Whelan society, of Scranton, that branch having increased from 50 to 215, being a gain of over 300 per cent. The committee recommends that hereafter this badge be given to the society bringing in the most members. The aggregate of the societies increase the membership to 154,000, and reports from three-quarters of the societies show $94,567 to have been paid out for benefits during the year. An estimate would place the whole amount paid out by societies during the year at not less than $125,000.

"Presented in behalf of the committee.

"T. M. DALY, President."

The special committee that met jointly at the Boody submitted the following report and it, too, was referred without discussion:

"The executive committee and special committee, composed of Messrs. Kelley, Tierney, Flannigan, Larney and Murphy, held a meeting to consider and report to this convention the best plan for extending the union. The committee, as the result of its deliberations, report that national conventions be held bi-enially, and that the incoming executive be instructed to urge societies to form state unions, to which would be given a share of the funds set aside for organization purposes to enable them to form branches in their respective states, and that a per capita tax of 15 cents be levied, the surplus over the running expenses of the unions to be applied to organizing purposes.

"Submitted on behalf of the committee.

"T. M. DALY, President."

This is one of the most important matters that will come before the convention, and will undoubtedly elicit considerable discussion.

The greater part of the afternoon was occupied in listening to the reports of the various branches.

P. H. Sugrue, from the Toledo branch, reported a wonderful increase in the order here, and gave some points as to ways and means of building up the organization.

E. Gaw Flannigan, before adjournment was taken, submitted the following resolutions, which were referred to the proper committee.

Home Rule for Ireland.

Whereas, The cause of Irish self-government, which so forcefully and fully represents all popular sovereignty, has in the recent English elections received a most encouraging help; and

Whereas, The Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone, who has come to be the embodiment of their cause, has placed the banner of Irish home rule in the very front of the parliamentary army, and demands for the Irish people that which is their now precious heritage—the right to govern themselves; and

Whereas, The restoration of the Irish people to the full enjoyment of their governmental rights is a cause of gratulation of all peoples who believe in the inherent vigor of man to undergo, govern himself; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union in national convention assembled, that

1. We extend our congratulations to the Irish people upon the present hopeful state of their fight for freedom.

2. That as citizens of the plain American commonwealth, where liberty is synonomous with citizenship, we record out conviction that the success of Irish home rule will be a most important step in the work of reclaiming the governments of the world from the curse of despotism to which the indifference of peoples and the machinations of men have brought them.

Thanks to Toledo A. O. H.

Whereas, The Toledo Division of Ancient Order of Hibernians have tendered to the delegates in attendance at the annual convention of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union a reception, to be held in Toledo on Friday evening, Aug. 19; and

Whereas, The sessions of the convention will probably close upon Thursday and the various delegations leave the city during the following day, it being impossible for many of them to remain.

Resolved, That the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union, in annual convention assembled, hereby records its appreciation of the courtesy of the Toledo organization of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and expresses its regret that the business arrangements of the convention will render it impossible for its delegates to take advantage of the proposed hospitality of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Resolved, That the convention sends greeting to the said Toledo organization of the A. O. H. as to a society engaged with us in the noble work of charity and benevolence, and bids them god speed in this work.

President Daly, during the course of some remarks on prejudices that exist in certain quarters against Catholics, said:

"If that flag (pointing to the stars and stripes) was in jeopardy to-morrow there would be no doubt as to where the Catholic young men of America would be found. They would be found battling for that flag, and, if need be, dying for it, as did their fathers in every battle of every war which this country of ours has undertaken. Could as much be said for those open enemies of ours? Would they not rather be found claiming the protection of the Union Jack, or fighting for the British flag to whom they owe a stronger and truer allegiance than to the stars and stripes?" In conclusion he thanked the priests, people and press of Toledo for their generous treatment and open-handed liberality.

The Excursion Last Evening.

Close on one thousand people were on the excursion to the lake last evening. The People's orchestra rendered some excellent selections and the management of the City of Toledo made everything as pleasant as possible.

Miss Frances Wyek presided for a time at the piano, and an impromptu musicale was highly enjoyed.

The evning was a most delightful one for an outing and the members of the St. Celicia's and the Y. M. C. B. A. took advantage of it to make better and closer acquaintances with the visitors.

Badges were distributed to delegates and the members, and they will be kept as souvenirs of the trip down the lake. To the committee in charge much credit is due for the success achieved.

Forenoon Session.

It was 10:30 this forenoon when President Daly called the convention to order.

The trensurer's report was read and referred. It is practically the same as that of the secretary, published in the Bee yesterday, and it is embodied in the following report of the auditing committee:

Toledo, Aug. 18, 1892.

To the Delegates of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union:

Gentlemen—Your auditing committee have examined the accounts of the secretary and treasurer and find the same correct as per the following summary:

Respectfully submitted,
Thos. McFarland,
J. J. Ferrigan,
James Gill,
Jas. Hart, jr.,
Augustus A. Boyle,
Committee.

We have examined the accounts of the widows' and orphans' fund and found the same correct as per the report of the secretary.

The report of the executive committee was then taken up.

The president stated relative to the prize badge that the committee recommended that the badge given annually to one branch be based on the greatest increase in the percentage of membership, but on the number enrolled.

An amendmenent to give two badges, one for the largest percentage of increase and the branch showing the largest increase, was introduced and after some discussion, adopted. The amendment as amended was adopted.

Inasmuch as the committees were not ready to report a recess of half an hour was here taken.

The committee on amendments to the constitution reported in the negative on amendments 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 10, 15 and 16, and in the affirmative on 3, 6, 7, 9, 11, 12, 13 and 14.

These resolutions have already been published in the Bee.

The committee voted unanimously against changing the name of the union and striking out the word "Irish" from the name. The committee reported unfavorably on the per diem and mileage amendment.

The report of the special committee published above was then taken up.

A motion was made to take up the report in sections, and an amendment was made to adopt the report as a whole.

It was decided to take it up in sections.

The clause referring to triennial conventions was indorsed by Messrs. Behan and Flannigan. The latter pleaded strongly and eloquently for a larger per capita tax, and the adoption of the report as a whole.

It is proposed by the committee that state organizations be formed, that the per capita be so increased that organizers can be employed regularly.

The time for each speaker—five minutes—was extended in Mr. Flannigan's case to 15 minutes, and after he got through it was moved that the vote by which it was decided to divide the report be reconsidered, and the report was again read.

It was moved that the report as read be adopted.

Mr. Griffin took the floor and opposed the recommendation of the report.

Mr. Tierney advocated the adoption of the report in a strong speech, and was followed by J. J. Murphy, who also indorsed the report and advocated its adoption.

Mr. M. Glennan opposed the adoption of the report, and used strong arguments against it.

Mr. P. H. Sugrue advocated the adoption, and argued that the best interests of the union required the adoption of the suggestions and recommendations.

A motion to adjourn to 3 o'clock carried, and the report was therefore laid over until then.

It was decided by a majority vote that, owing to the press of business it would be impossible to accept the invitation to go to Put-in-Bay to-morrow.

A ride around the city will be given to-morrow afternoon, and if the delegates can manage to get through with its labors to-day some may take in the trip to Put-in-Bay to-morrow.

The committee on resolutions have prepared and will present later, the following set of resolutions:

Resolved, By the Irish Catholic Benevolent union in national convention assembled, that we hereby record and reaffirm our steadfast adherence to the principles of Catholic charity and benevolence, good will to all men and undying allegiance to the holy Roman Catholic Catholic church.

Resolved, That we do further record our convictions that the exigencies of the times demand that all true Catholics are alive to their interests as well as to their privileges as Catholics should combine, through the medium of Catholic societies, for the purpose of expressing their Catholicity, which may be aptly termed universal union, in the community wherein they may live.

Resolved, That we call upon all good Catholics to join the Irish Catholic Benevolent union because it represents an organized effort to illustrate all that is good and noble and Christian in the character of the American citizen.

Resolved, That the heartfelt and sincere thanks of the convention are due and are hereby tendered to the Y. M. C. B. A. and St. Cecelia society of Toledo for the warm hospitality which they have shown to the delegation and the delegates.

Resolved, That the especial thanks of the convention are due and are hereby tendered to the executive committee of the Y. M. C. B. A. and the St. Cecelia society, composed of J. J. Murphy, chairman; Mrs. Emma Walker, J. J. Whelan, Prof. J. B. Poulin, Joe McGinnis, W. F. Sapp, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Frey, Miss Higgins and Miss Meany, for their indefatigable efforts to please the I. C. B. U. in its annual meeting in Toledo, and that we congratulate the Catholics of Toledo in having in their midst a body of earnest working Catholics, who evidently believe that faith without works is dead.

Resolved, That the I. C. B. U. hails

NANCY HANKS IS QUEEN.

She Takes the Laurels From Maud S.

Great Enthusiasm at the Park in Chicago.

The Ppoduct of Happy Medium Puts a Mile Behind Her in Two Minutes, Seven and a Quarter Seconds.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Maud S. is no longer queen of the trotting turf. The proud position which the daughter of Harold has held so long has been wrested from her, and Nancy Hanks reigns in her stead.

Wednesday afternoon at Washington Park in the presence of 10,000 spectators Budd Doble drove his beautiful mare to beat her record of 2:09. She not only beat her record, but lowered the world's trotting record from 2:08 3-4, the time of Maud S., to 2:07 1-4.

The day was an ideal day for trotting, the sun shining warmly, hardly a cloud in the sky and a cool, gentle breeze blowing off Lake Michigan directly down the home stretch. The track was a trifle dusty in places, but as fast as it well could be. The mare was in excellent condition, fit to trot for a man's life, and before she made the trial it was the general opinion that if Nancy Hanks was ever to equal her record of 2:09, Washington Park track and Wednesday were the place and time to do it. Everything was auspicious, there was nothing to prevent the mare from doing her best, and it rested alone with her and Doble how far the record was to be lowered.

It was about 3 o'clock when Nancy first came upon the track. She passed the grand stand while other horses were scoring and received but little recognition. An hour later she was out and went portions of the track at a 2:20 clip. She was warmly greeted this time, and after jogging a mile went to the stable and was rubbed down, preparatory to her trial heat, which was scheduled for 5 o'clock.

Punctually to the minute the gate at the east end of the track was opened and Doble drove her out. She was without boots, or trappings of any sort, and was hitched to one of the new sulkies with ball bearings and pneumatic tires. Doble walked her slowly to the head of the lower turn and then came back to the wire at a gentle pace. After waiting a few moments until a drag which had gone around the track close to the pole had left the track, Doble drove her back to the sixteenth pole and then came down at a smashing gait.

Frank Starr, behind the pace-maker Abe Lincoln, was waiting for him. Starter Walker leaned far over the railing of the judge's stand, his eyes on Doble's face, watching to see if he wanted the word. Just as the mare shot beneath the wire Doble shook his head. Mr. Walker drew back and Abe pulled up to await a second trial. Back to the distance flag this time, and at a gentle trot which increased rapidly as she drew near the wire. A nod from Doble, and "Go!" came from Walker's lips, as the mare shot like an arrow toward the turn. There was work for Abe Lincoln now and for the first sixteenth of a mile he lost ground steadily. Then Starr urged him on, and he was on Nancy's wheel at the quarter.

A cheer went up from the intensely packed grand stand as the mare flew past the quarter pole in 31 1-2—a 2:06 gait.

As she started along the back stretch, trotting as true as a die, her feet striking the ground with the regularity of a pendulum, the crowd began to murmur, "She'll never do it; never in the world;" but the old-timers outlined Doble's gray jacket against the picket fence beyond him, and as he passed them so rapidly that they seemed to be going backward, they held their breath and said nothing. They knew that record was going.

As the mare, still keeping up her beautiful gait, went past the half mile post in 1:03 3-4, a man in front of the grand stand called, "1:04 at the half!" A mighty yell went up from the crowd.

"Keep quiet as she finishes," shouted Starter Walker, but this warning was not needed. The crowd had subsided of its own accord. Its own breathless interest in the event kept it quiet. Not a sound was heard as she moved past the three-quarter pole and turned into the stretch.

Abe Lincoln, under the whip moved up to Nancy's throat latch. Doble spoke gently to her and her feet flew faster than the eye could distinguish them.

"She'll do it!" yelled an irrepressible; and there was a faint yell, as the fastest quartet of pattering hoofs ever heard on a trotting track swept under the wire.

There was a moment's pause, a hasty consultation of watches, and then an umbrella went sailing into the air from near the grand stand. It was accompanied by howls, and then bedlam broke loose.

Hats, canes and coats were tossed wildly into the air. Men slapped each other on the back and shook hands with each other in sheer delight. Incidentally they kept on yelling.

The loud cheers which went up told Doble even before he had slowed up that the record was broken, and as he came back to the judge's stand his face was covered with a smile as wide as the visor of his cap. He had said that Nancy Hanks would beat the record, and she had done it. As he dismounted from his sulky he was surrounded by men who wrung his hand again and again. When he had a chance to use a hand he lifted his cap in acknowledgement of the cheers o fthe crowd. Loud calls for "Doble, Doble" went up, and the veteran reinsman climbing into the grand stand again removed his cap from that head which holds so much knowledge concerning trotters, and bowed repeatedly to the wild applause that greeted him.

The official time for the mile, which shouted Starter Walker, and they came from 10,000 throats with wild enthusiasm. "Now three cheers for the man who drove her;" and again the air was shivered, and hats, coats, handkerchiefs and about everything else that could be thrown upward were sent in that direction. It was fully ten minutes before the tumult subsided.

The official time for the time, which was as honest a mile as was trotted, is: 31 1-2, 1:03 3-4, 1:36 1-2, 2:07 1-4.

The last quarter was trotted in 30 3-4 seconds. The exhibition was given for a certain sum, to be paid by the Northwestern Breeders' association, under whose direction the trotting meeting is being held. An additional sum was to be paid if the record was beaten; but Doble declined to say what it was. He waxed enthusiastically in speaking of his mare after the heat was over. "She is, in my opinion," he said, "without a peer on the trotting turf. She was not distressed in the slightest degree at the end of the mile, and finished fresh and strong. Within 20 minutes after trotting that mile in 2:07 1-4, she could have gone out and trotted very close to it. I don't say she could have equalled it, but she could have put in a very fast half mile without much trouble."

She trotted true from the wire to the wire, never lost her head and did not show the slightest inclination to leave her feet. I did not touch her once with the whip and only switched it through the air a little, and spoke to her quietly as she entered the home stretch. I will not start her here again, but I have every reason to believe that she will make her present record a back number by the time snow flies. She did the trick so comfortably today that I am sure she can beat it in the future."

"Did you have any idea that you were breaking the record?"

"I knew at the half," said Doble, with a quiet smile, "that Nancy was going to come very close to it anyhow. I looked at my watch and saw she had gone it in 1:04, by my watch, and I knew she could at least keep up the gait at which she was going. Then when I heard them yell as I finished I knew it was done."

In trotting the heat the mare, who weighed to-day 870 pounds, pulled Doble, who weighed 150 pounds, and a sulky of 62 1-2 pounds weight.

Nancy Hanks, the queen of the trotting turf, is a bay mare, 6 years old, 15 3-4 hands high. She was sired by Happy Medium, out of a Dictator mare.

Abe Lincoln, the running horse who helped Nancy along to glory, is a bay horse with something of a history. He was frmerly the property of Adam Forepaugh, jr., who used him for many years about the circus, his good points being his perfect gentleness and a fondness for the society of elephants, of which horses in general stand in mortal terror. Because of his level head, obedience and thorough reliability he was taken by Doyle as a pace maker for Nancy Hanks in her trials against time.

The officials of Washington Park claim that the time of 2:08 3-4, made by Maude S. at Cleveland in 1885, is second to that of Nancy Hanks' record of to-day. Sunol, owned by Robert Bonner of New York, trotted in 2:08 1-4 on a kite-shaped track at Stockton, Cal., in 1891. This performance they declare to be inferior to that of Maud S. on the regulation track, which they say is conceded to be from one to three seconds slower than the kite-shaped track.

Nancy Hanks is owned by J. Malcomb Forbes, of Boston, Mass., who purchased her last year for $45,000.

Cleveland, Aug. 18.—The Cleveland Yacht club races were finished yesterday. Considering the poor weather, the yachts in classes B and C made fair time. There was hardly a breath of air at the appointed time for starting, and it was in the afternoon when the gun was fired for a start. Starters in class B were Merle, Buffalo; Marietta, Fairport; Sunbeam, Cleveland; Alice Enright, Detroit; and Lulu B., Detroit.

Merle of Buffalo was sailed by her owner, Capt. W. F. Hammer, took the lead after crossing the line and finished first in 4 hours and 7 seconds (corrected time), with Alice Enright, of Detroit, in 4 hours 8 minutes and 9 seconds.

There were eight starters in class C, and although boats were closely bunched all along the course, the Shamrock, of Detroit, passed the east stake boat an easy winner in 4 hours 10 minutes 19 seconds (corrected time).

The Cleveland yeacht Meteor finished second in 4 hours 20 minutes 28 seconds. The Shamrock is owned by H. C. Kendall, of Detroit, and the Meteor by B. Lyman, Cleveland.

Other yachts in the race were Compeer, Restless, Fleetwing, Cleveland; West Wind, Buffalo; Fanchon, Toledo.

In the naptha launch race the Nellie, of Toledo, Douglas C. Eugene, Dearest and La Voyageur, of Cleveland, started, and Douglas C was an easy winner in 2 hours 16 minutes 6 seconds.

LAKESIDE.

Successful Meetings Being Held at These Fine Grounds.

Lakeside, Aug. 18.—(Special.)—"Where do all the people come from?" is a question often heard at Lakeside now, for in spite of the hundreds who leave each day there are still hundreds here.

The English camp meeting closed on Sunday evening and the German camp meeting closed Monday evening. Both meetings were very well attended and very successful this year.

The Salvation Army began services Tuesday morning. They are having very successful meetings and the last of the services was held Wednesday night.

The R. B. Hays' regiment will be here August 29, 30, and 31.

Many people come to Lakeside after the meetings for rest and recreation and they surely could not find a more beautiful place. The grounds are being improved each year in many different ways.

There have never been so many on the grounds at this season of the year as now.

Late registers at the hotel are: Mrs. A. M. Weber, L. F. Eversnard, Mrs. H. F. Risser, of Cleveland, O.; Mrs. A. D. Roache, Mrs. Pauline Armstrong, of Louisville, Ky.

MICHIGAN IN LINE.

A Most Harmonious Democratic Convention.

The Forerunner of a Coming Victory.

Hon. Allan B. Morse Nominated for Governor—The Entire Ticket a Good One.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 18.—Harmony with a very large-sized "H" was the rule to-day in the largest democratic convention which Michigan ever saw. The withdrawal of Gov. Edwin B. Winans left smooth sailing in respect to gubernatorial honors, and there was scarcely enough rivalry in regard to the minor places on the ticket to make proceedings interesting. The only ripple which at all disturbed the convention's serene course was the candidacy of Adolphus A. Ellis of Ionia for attorney-general. Mr. Ellis was indorsed two weeks ago for the same office by the people's party, and this fact aroused some opposition from the true-blue democracy. A great majority of the delegates, however, declared Mr. Ellis' democracy quite good enough for them, the minority submitted gracefully, and the people's party man was nominated by acclamation, as were all other candidates. The convention concluded its labors, and the city is full of enthusiastic democrats, ratifying the ticket with the boom of cannon.

When the proceedings began I. M. Weston of this city was called to the chair. He referred to the administration of Michigan's affairs during the past two years as a source of pride to every democrat; to the readjustment of the bureau of taxation, the abolition of a number of expensive state boards and a general reduction of state expenses; spoke of the national campaign; of Michigan's great vote-getter, Allen B. Morse, of Hon. Don M. Dickinson, and then made a short tariff speech applicable to Michigan farmers and workingmen. He then read a letter from Gov. Winans declining a renomination, addressed to the convention, giving as his reason his views upon the financial question as not being in harmony with all democrats.

Chairman Weston also received a telegram from Auditor-General Stone, in which the latter positively declined to allow his name to be again presented in connection with the nomination for auditor-general. After the appointment of the usual committees the convention took a recess until 2 p. m.

When the convention reassembled the committee on credentials reported every county in the state represented except Isle Royal.

Organization and Nominations.

The committee on permanent organization recommended Hon. T. A. Weadock as permanent chairman, and Chairman Weston appointed Peter White, W. R. Burt, and Gen. J. A. Parkhurst a committee to bring Mr. Weadock to the stage. Mr. Weadock was vociferously applauded when introduced and his address was punctuated freely with applause. After returning thanks for the honor conferred on him and referring to the ticket nominated two years ago, which was triumphantly elected, he spoke of the management of Campau, of Gov. Winans and the late M. H. Ford, of democratic union soldiers, particularizing the hero of Mission Ridge, A. B. Morse, and of the hope of restoring Cleveland to the white house.

The order of business making the nominations precede the report of the committee on resolutions, the convention proceeded to business at once, and ex-Mayor Edwin F. Uhl, of this city, named Judge Allen B. Morse of Ionia for governor. Mr. Uhl presented Judge Morse's name for the vice-presidency at Chicago, and his presence here was greeted with long applause.

W. G. Thompson of Detroit, moved that the nomination of Mr. Morse be made by acclamation. T. F. Carroll amended to make it by a rising vote, and everybody got up and cheered, and then cheered again, and the nomination was made.

The Ticket.

The full ticket as nominated is as follows:

For Governor—Allan B. Morse, of Ionia.

For Lieutenant Governor—James P. Edwards, of Houghton.

Treasurer—Frederick Marvin, of Wayne.

Secretary of State—Charles F. Marskey, of Saginaw.

For Auditor General—James A. Vannier, of Marquette.

For Attorney General—Adolphus A. Ellis, of Ionia.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction—Ferris S. Fitch, of Pontiac.

For Commissioner of State Lands—George Schaffer, of Carrs.

Member State Board of Equalization—James A. Burr, of Genesee.

Elector-at-Large, Eastern District—George B. Durand, of Genesee.

Elector-at-Large, Western District—Peter White, of Marquette.

After the adoption of a platform the convention, without opposition, chose the following electors-at-large: Eastern district, George B. Durand, of Genesee; western district, Peter White, of Marquette. With three rousing cheers and a tiger for the ticket, the assemblage then adjourned without day, no action being taken as to senatorial indorsement.

IOWA DEMOCRATS

Holding Their State Convention at Davenport.

There Will be No Fusion with the People's Party and They Will Go It Alone.

Davenport, Ia., Aug. 18.—The democratic convention which assembled here to-day was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the state. The people's party convention last week settled the question of fusion, and little regret is expressed by the democrats at their action.

The first propositions looking toward a fusion were based upon a people's party electral ticket, and a democratic slate for the state offices. But the democrats would not even consider a proposition involving the surrender of more than a fraction of the electors, and many of the party leaders scoffed at the idea altogether. So no one was surprised when the third party convention refused to consider fusion, as their action was really nothing more than a recognition of conditions that already existed, and rendered a combination impossible.

The convention was called to order by a brief but stirring address by Hon. C. D. Fullen, chairman of the state committee, and after a temporary organization had been effected a recess was taken until afternoon.

At the next session nominations will be made for the following offices: Secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, railroad commissioner, and two presidential electors at large. The contest for secretary of state rests principally between Senator W. W. Dodge of Burlington, and E. E. Carr of Delaware. Senator Dodge is one of the best known public men in Iowa, has served in the senate with distinction, and has done effective work in several campaigns.

Judge E. Willard of, Atlantic, appears to be in the lead for attorney general, but is closely pressed by Listen McMillen, of Oskaloosa, who has been in turn a republican, a prohibitionist and a democrat.

For state treasurer W. L. White, of Wayne, and John Foley, of Chickasaw, have been making an active canvass.

There are numerous candidates for the railroad commissionership, while for electors at large, John C. Bills, of Davenport, and W. W. Witmer, of Des Moines, will probably be chosen. The delegates are being elaborately entertained by the people of Davenport irrespective of party.

FOSTORIA NEWS.

Fostoria, O., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—The creditors of W. H. S. Foster, the breeder of Holstein-Friesan cattle, well-known to fancy stock breeders, are pushing him to the wall with a large number of attachment suits. Jonas Foster, his father, is a heavy indorser for his son, and will succumb to the load he will thus be called upon to bear through the failure. He has been a prominent farmer of this locality for many years and has the sympathy of all in his misfortune.

The Fostoria W. C. T. U. held a meeting this afternoon to take the necessary steps to perfect a county organization. Seneca county has two cities and a number of villages large enough to sustain local organizations, but it thought that the good work can be augmented by means of more thorough organization.

Mr. J. T. Ottke, of Cincinnati, and Miss Emily Baumstark, of this city, were married at St. Wendelin's church to-day.

About three-fourths of the Salvation Army of this place is at Lakeside in the interest of the salvation of souls.

SPOONER NOMINATED

For Governor of Wisconsin by Republicans.

Hon. John C. Koch Will be His Running Mate—The Regulation G. O. P. Platform.

Milwaukee, Aug. 18.—At the republican state convention yesterday, ex-United States Senator Spooner, of Hudson, and John C. Koch, of Milwaukee, were nominated by acclamation, the former for governor and the latter for lieutenant governor, amid the greatest enthusiasm.

R. W. Jackson, of Shawano, was nominated secretary of state by a majority of 11 over O. L. Rosekrause, of Oconomowoc. Atley Paterson, of Crawford, was nominated by acclamation.

The other nominations are W. H. Chanler, of Dane, for superintendent of public instruction; J. D. Bullock,, of Jefferson, railroad commissioner, and J. E. Heg, of Lake Geneva, for insurance commissioner.

The platform adopted approves the Minneapolis platform, denounces the proposition of the democratic national platform to repeal the tax levied on the circulation of state banks; denounces as without foundation the statement often reiterated by the democratic press, that republican success in this state involves the surrender or compromise of whatever legal rights the courts may hold to exist in favor of the state upon the bonds of ex-state treasurers and promises to enforce the legal rights of the people. It approves the administration of President Harrison; it reaffirms and indorses the declaration of republican convention held in this city in May last upon the educational question as fully defining the position of the republican party of the state upon the subject which was that the "Educational issue of 1890 is permanently settled and not to be revived by the republican party;" it denounces the democratic apportionment; it denounces "the parsimony of the democratic party of the state for its refusal to make adequate appropriation of money for a fit representation by the state at the world's fair," and calls attention "with shame to the action of the democratic majority in congress in refusing to grant liberal appropriation" for the fair; it condemns the cruel treatment of negroes in southern states.

A FAMOUS INVENTOR

Dead at Chicago—He Invented the Time-locks on Safes.

Tiffin, O., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—A private telegram from Chicago conveys the intelligence of the death in that city of Henry Gross, a former resident of Tiffin, at the advanced age of 79. He comes of an honored family in this county, and was himself a striking example of that inventing genius which had made Yankee ingenuity famous the world over. Mr. Gross' father was a gunsmith and his son was bred to the same trade. He proved an apt apprentice and developed very early his wonderful mechanical ability. His first invention was a breech-loading rifle, the most perfect of its kind for a number of years thereafter. But it was as the inventor and pantentee of the time-locks on safes and bank vaults that he earned his reputation. He became identified with the Hall Safe & Lock company, and his services as a safe expert took him all over the country. The full account of his invention of the time-lock is found in Southern Merchant of November, 1879. He had all the genius of the typical inventor as well as his proverbial deficiency in financial ability. Had the executive and financial capacities of Henry Gross been equal to his genius, he would have died a millionaire.

GLUT OF GRAIN.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The receipts of grain during the past three days have been nearly 3,500,000 bushels and 200,000 barrels of flour, the largest midsummer business known at this port. If everything were running smoothly there would be no trouble in getting rid of this amount of freight, but owing to the Central being in the same predicament as the Erie nothing can prevent a serious glut of grain in the Buffalo elevators and a detention of vessels in the river.

Here's a $12,000 Deal.

A deal was filed at the county recorder's office to-day whereby Courtney K. Heath and Flora E. Puck sold to Henry H. Darst, sub-division No. 8 and all of No. 9, except the southwesterly 6 feet, of lots 463 Port Lawrence division and lot 1400 Vistula division. The consideration was $12,000.

Send the Passengers Along.

Passenger Agent Gunckel, of the Lake Shore railroad, received a telegram from the proper authorities, this morning, stating that all Lake Shore and New York Central passenger trains would not be detained at Buffalo on account of the switchmen's strike, and to sell tickets until orders to the contrary.

His Face Cut and Bruised.

John B. Uhl, deputy county surveyor, was quite seriously cut and bruised about the face in a runaway late yesterday afternoon. The horse became frightened while standing on Lawrence avenue and ran to Ballard's livery stable, where he barely escaped making serious trouble. The buggy was demolished.

The Manxmen's Excursion.

Twenty-six of the Manxmen and their families went to Cedar Point yesterday over the Wheeling road, where they were met by several hundred from Cleveland, and the day was spent in what might be termed a family reunion. There were no speeches or anything of that sort, but a general good time was had.

The Council Judiciary Committee.

A meeting of the judiciary committee was held at the council chamber last evening, and considerable business was disposed of. A number of assessments on property were abated, which will be reported to the aldermen on Monday evening for approval. Others were laid over for further investigation. City Solicitor Read presented several cost bills, which were ordered on the claim ordinance.

The Connecticut Mutual Will Get Its Gelt.

Yesterday afternoon United States Marshal Lattimer sold 57 acres of land near Richard station, at public sale, to Richard Haughton, for $5,000.

The property was sold to satisfy a judgment rendered against the owner, James De Shea, in favor of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company. The land sold for $1,000 more than the appraisement.

The First Cremation.

The taking of the remains of the late Carl Markscheffel to Detroit for cremation has brought the question to public attention. It has been stated that this is the first body from Toledo to be thus disposed of. This is an error, since the wife of Mr. Ernst Greiner, a well-known citizen, was cremated at Detroit on the 29th of May, and the ashes, about four pounds and a half in weight, are now in his possession.

The Mott Released.

The schooner John T. Mott, which was libeled in United States court yesterday, by the Consolidated Street Railway company, for $300 alleged damages, was released this morning upon the owner giving a satisfactory bond.

The Political Equality Club.

The regular meeting of the Political Equality club will be held at the home of Mrs. S. F. Moore, 2233 Maplewood avenue. Numerous matters of importance will come up, beside the routine work, which will be of exceptional interest. The public is cordially invited to be present, and especially all who are interested in work for equal suffrage. The meeting will open at 4 p. m. sharp.

Is Toledo to Get the Shake?

George Harriott, formerly champion bicyclist of England, is in Detroit trying to enlist capital with which to start a bicycle factory. He is the inventor of a number of improvements to the favorite roadster, and has no less than seven valuable patents. Mr. Harriott and his wife and 5-year-old girl recently rode from Toledo to this city on a tandem of his own invention weighing but 50 pounds and capable of being used singly by either man or woman. Mr. and Mrs. Harriott have ridden about 16,000 miles on the machine during the past two years. They are now stopping at the residence of Solomon Hayes, 307 Brush street.—Detroit Tribune.

For Baw Beese Lake.

It is the intention of Beatty lodge, K. P., located at the Air Line Junction, to proceed at once with the erection of their new building. Most of the preliminary steps have been taken, and the tug of war now comes to procure the necessary funds. That this will be done speedily, there is but little doubt. A series of entertainments and excursions have been provided for to this end. The first one will occur on August 25, when the members and their friends will go on a basket picnic over the Lake Shore to Baw Beese lake. A very low rate has been secured, and it is to be hoped that not only the K. P.'s of Toledo, but citizens generally, will aid the lodge in its laudable effort to secure a home of its own and add another fine structure to this growing and enterprising part of the city.

A Kettle to Burn Bonds.

The treasurer of the Pythian Castle trustees, Mr. Albert Neukom, is engaged this week in paying to the different lodges owning stock a handsome dividend, which is the first from the income of the building, but it is conditioned that the same shall be applied to the odds and ends for which certificates of indebtedness were issued outside of the regular bond issue for the erection of the building, which will be done. Last evening paper to the amount of the dividend was called in by William Tell lodge. A match was applied to it, and it burned to the great satisfaction of the members. The treasurer contemplates the procuring of a kettle, in which the various lodges will reduce to ashes the evidences of debt when cancelled. The wisdom of the erection of the Pythian castle has long since been made apparent.

A Few Labor Notes.

Last evening a committee from the Building Trades Council met with the arrangements committee from the Central Labor union to make preparations for the celebration of Labor day. A committee from the Central Labor union will meet with the Building Trades Council next Monday evening. This looks as though the Building Trades Council had reconsidered the intention of celebrating by themselves.

An invitation is extended to every labor organization in the city to take part in the parade and picnic. The parade occurs at 10 a. m. The line of march is not yet decided upon, but will be at the next meeting, Wednesday, August 24. Mr. Grant Tanner will be grand marshal, and A. A. Reilly assistant.

The privilege committee will meet every evening from 8 to 9, at 235 Summit street.

International Association of Machinists at their meeting in Turley's hall last night initiated one new member, and discussed plans for the customary midwinter hop.

The wood-working machinists hold their open meeting this evening.

Carpenters' union, No. 25, met last night at Carpenters' hall. Two men were initiated, and outside of the regular routine business the trustees were authorized to secure a band of music for Labor Day, as the union expects to be out in force.

The Late Ira E. Lee.

The late Ira E. Lee, formerly of Toledo, was highly respected at his new home in Superior, Wis., and every mark possible was paid his family during the bereavement through which they have just passed. At the opening of the circuit court on Tuesday, the following was reported:

In obedience to the court the committee appointed consisting of Carl C. Pope, Myron Reed, C. Smith, D. E. Roberts, and E. B. Manwaring submit the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, Judge Ira E. Lee, an honored and distinguished member of the Douglas county bar, while fully panoplied with his professional armor, has been called by the messenger of death from "life's fitful fever" to the bright "Land of the Dead,"

Resolved, That in the death of Judge Lee our commonwealth has lost a valuable and distinguished citizen, the bar a high minded, learned, and experienced member, his family a kind husband and father and society a kind hearted and generous neighbor and friend.

Resolved, That we tender to the widow and children of the deceased our deepest sympathy in the time of their great affliction and commend them to the bounteous love of that Great Judge whose decrees are just and final, though at times to human judgment they seem harsh and cruel.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the records of this court and that a copy of the same be duly certified to by the clerk of court and be delivered to the family of the deceased.

THE PEOPLE'S THEATRE

Will Open Monday With a Barrel of Money.

A Barrel of Money will open the People's theater Monday evening. The piece is a happy combination of broad comedy and thrilling melo-drama, with just a touch of sensationalism to give it life. The company is said to be a strong one and there are numerous excellent specialties and elaborate mechanical and scenic effects. The scene where the girl is rescued from revolving belt in the iron mills just as she is at death's door is one of the most realistic and thrilling pictures ever staged in this city. The piece will no doubt draw well.

MESSRS. LIBBEY AND STINE

Return from Chicago Where They Located the Libbey Building at the Fair.

Architect D. L. Stine and E. D. Libbey have just returned from Chicago where they located the building of the Libbey Glass company on the Midway Plaisance, one of the most prominent positions on the exposition grounds. It bids fair to be the handsomest building erected by any one business concern on the grounds. The building will be 150 by 200 feet on the ground, built of steel, wood and staff—staff, by the way, is a sort of a white plaster with a fibre in it. The style of the architecture will be Italian renaissance. Active work will be commenced on the building September 1, and it is expected to have it enclosed by October 1, when the buildings are to be dedicated.

The Libbey company's exhibit will be most complete, giving an accurate idea of the whole process of working glass from beginning to end.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Hold a Quiet Session Nothing of a Startling Nature Coming Up.

The police commissioners held a very prosy session last evening. Mr. Potter failed to show up and the other members were not disposed to kill themselves transacting business.

Health Officer Fisher stated that he had established a disinfectant fund, which would be paid the birth return fees. He reported two cases of diphtheria and four cases of scarlet fever, and that the percentage of contagion in Toledo was lower than any other city in the United States.

On motion of Mr. Warring the clerk was instructed to draft a resolution requesting the council to empower the police board with authority to buy a one-horse patrol wagon and a horse.

As to Meat Inspector Brown's increase of salary to $100 per month, Mayor Emmick reported that he had consulted with the city auditor as to the resources and had learned that the funds were not able to stand any more burden. On motion of Mr. Waring the matter was laid on the table.

Edward Gavin, who was recently shot by Officer Olms, full particulars of which appeared in the Bee, at the time, filed an affidavit in which he stated his side of the case in formal charges against the officer. On motion of Mr. Stager, it took its regular course and will come up for hearing next meeting.

Clerk Durian stated that a safe was badly needed in the captain's office. The matter was discussed, but no action taken.

THE ANN ARBOR'S DOCKS.

Word Received That the Road is Trespassing.

The Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan Railroad company is building immense docks abutting Lake Michigan at Frankfort, the terminal of the Michigan division of the line, for the landing of the immense transfer boats, which are under construction at Craig's ship yards at the present time. The docks must be gigantic in construction as trains of 30 and 35 cars will be run over them to the boats.

It seems, however, that there is to be a hitch in the progress of the work.

Yesterday Hon. James M. Ashley received a communication from government officials that the railroad company was encroaching upon government grounds in the erection of the docks. James Ashley, jr., went to Frankfort to-day to look into the matter.

EPWORTH LEAGUE UNION.

First Meeting Held at the German M. E. Church.

The first regular meeting of the Toledo Epworth League Union was held at the German Emanuel church last evening, and was presided over by the president, L. S. Churchill. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Hiller, after which the minutes were read and the roll called. There were six chapters represented by the officers of their respective leagues, and 23 persons present.

The executive committee met and elected chairmen for the four departments of the union as follows:

Department of Christian Work—W. S. Herron.

Mercy and Help—Mrs. J. W. Pinkerton.

Literary—Ernst Bernhardt.

Entertainment—L. P. Harris.

Reports were received on schedule visitation and on the Lakeside excursion, and bills were ordered paid. The treasurer opened a subscription list with gratifying results.

The next business meeting will be held at the Clark street church, East Toledo. Attention was called to the district league meeting to be held at Perrysburg next Wednesday.

PATRIARCHS MILITANT

And I. O. O. F. Matters Affecting Toledoans.

There Will be a Radical Change in the Workings of the Patriarchs Militant.

Col. A. J. Eyster, of Toledo, commanding the Fourth regiment Patriarchs Militant, has been appointed on a very important committee—a committee on memorial and resolutions, and with all the line, field and staff officers, active or retired, in Toledo, will attend a meeting to be held at Dayton, September 2, at which time matters of great importance bearing on the future of the department will be considered.

There is a movement on foot to change the workings of the Patriarchs Militant and make each state supreme in itself.

The meeting has been called to take action in the matter.

Past Grand Patriarch Lon Van Noorden, of Toledo Grand Patriarch, E. B. Comley and Grand Scribe James Anderson, of the Grand Encampment of Ohio, I. O. O. F., will go to Woodville, Tuesday, August 30, to attend the installation of a new encampment. Word was received in Toledo to-day that dispensations had been granted for encampments at Oakwood, Paulding county; Byreville, Gurnsey county, and Prairie Depot, Wood county.

LITZ IS DEAD.

Close of the Life of an Eccentric Character.

An Enemy to Women, Barbers and Water—A Son of Nobility Ends His Career in a Hospital.

There died at St. Vincent's hospital last evening one of the most eccentric characters that the history of Lucas county has ever produced.

His name is Louis Litz, and he lived the life of a hermit in Oregon township for 20 years. According to his own story, he was born in Prussia, near Danzig, of noble parentage, and was raised in the lap of luxury.

Upon attaining his majority he became possessed with a desire to come to America and establish a stock farm, being a great lover of fine horses and cattle. Having the means to gratify such a desire, he was soon bound for America, and later on drifted to Lucas county and settled down upon 600 acres of land in Oregon township.

With ample resources in a financial way, the young man soon had a fine farm established and his stock was the wonder and admiration of the community.

In his young days Litz never manifested any interest in society, and shunned rather than sought the companionship of his fellowmen. As he grew older, this disposition became more and more apparent, until it became an eccentricity. He preferred to be alone with his horses and cows. He never married and hated women.

In addition to this unsociable disposition Litz became morose and sullen, and sloven and unclean in his personal appearance. This habit grew upon him and according to his own statement he had not washed for 20 years, until the bath he received upon his arrival at the hospital last week.

Litz was a man of education and read constantly, history being his favorite subject. He took an interest in the political issues of the times, and upon the defeat of a favorite candidate, resolved never to cut his hair or shave again, and he kept his word.

Dr. Elizabeth Woods has returned from Warren, O., where she has been the guest of her parents.

Miss Jennie Mohr, of Memphis, Tenn., is the guest of Mrs. M. Dreyful, of 421 Huron street.

Miss Nell Connell left this morning for a few weeks' vacation with Chicago relatives and friends.

Miss Maggie Coats, who has been visiting Miss Ruth Thrift, has returned to her home in Kalida.

Mary J. Palmer, of Marshalltown, Iowa, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. John Rickenbaugh, on Superior street.

Miss Jessie Campbell, who has been visiting relatives for the past few weeks has returned to her home in Mansfield.

Commodore D. H. Commager and sons, Harry and James, have gone on a cruise to Mackinaw with their new yacht Ida Voight.

Rev. Father O'Brien, of Cleveland, accompanied by a number of friends, enjoyed an afternoon's outing up the Maumee on the steamer Burt yesterday.

George A. Richmond is in Cleveland on business. He is vice president of the Ohio Confectioners' association, which is holding its quarterly meeting in the Forest City.

Mrs. H. Englehardt chaperoned the following party of young ladies on the steamer City of Toledo last evening: The Misses Josie and Frances Welck, Anna, Ella and Susan Zahnle, Lizzie Welch, Mamie Shaeffer, and Gertrude Nelson.

Mr. Thomas Vanstone and wife returned yesterday from Vermont, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Amy, and son Fred, of Hartford, Ct., It will be remembered that Mr. Vanstone went to Europe on account of the serious illness of his daughter, and on return spent a short time in Vermont. The friends of the family will regret to learn that Miss Amy's health is not greatly improved.

A number of Mr. George Mill's friends tendered him a pleasant surprise last evening in honor of his birthday. Dainty refreshments were served and dancing and music were the features of the evening. Mr. Mills was the recipient of many handsome presents. Among the guests were: The Misses Lura Whitney, Ina Oblinger, Mary Oblinger, Flora Van Ness, Daisy de Rutte, Mertie Miller, Ray Morse, and Messrs. Herbert Whitney, Alf. Jefferson, George Quine Ren Gasser, Percy Oblinger, Fred Rakestraw, Lou Rakestraw, and Ben Mills.

FOR THE OTHER SIDE.

For some days the friends of protection and reciprocity have been enjoying a new and very delicious cake called Grandfather's Hat, and now the other side is to have a show. A Tariff Reform Cake has made its appearance. It is the product of the progressive spirit and inventive genius of Worts-Kirk-Bigelow, who also originated its predecessor, Grandfather's Hat. Tariff Reform is a handsome cake, and it is as good as it is handsome. It will be one of the popular features of the campaign, and no doubt will, in a few days, be in all the leading grocery stores.

TOOK THE VOWS.

Tiffin, O., Aug. 18.—(Special)—Monsignor Boff, of Cleveland, assisted by eight priests of this diocese, officiated at the Ursuline convent to-day in the solemn ceremonial known to Catholics as the profession and reception. Those who took the vows were Miss Ella King of this city and Miss Jennie Croft of Cleveland, who assumed the white veil and will henceforth be known as Sister Gertrude and Sister Helena respectively. The black veil was taken by Sister Martin, of Newport, R. I., and Sister Immaculate Heart of Republic.

AN ISLAND HOME.

A change of air, a change of scene, is the best sort of prescription to indulge in during the summer months. It beats medicine and drugs. An island equipped with all the heart can wish for comfort and pleasure, is located in Michigan, and known far and wide as Mackinac. It is a favorite resort. Reached by the Michigan Central railroad, and fully described in its Summer Tourist folder, sent to your address by dropping a line, with stamp, to Wm. J. Schwerth, S. P. Agent, Cincinnati, Ohio.

RUSSIAN TOWN DESTROYED.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 18.—A fire last night in the town of Serdovsk, Russia, government of Saratov, destroyed 300 houses and many persons homeless.

Never before in the history of Toledo were such opportunities to make money as are offered in Fair Ground addition to conservative buyers and builders. Take the Dorr street cars and look over this ground before you invest your money, and then call on Detwiler & Co. for information in regard to how they build for purchasers.

ARRESTED AS SPIPES.

London, Aug. 18.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says: "Three French officers and a lady have been arrested as spies at Myslowitz, Silesia."

More new buildings are being built in the same area in Fair Ground addition than in any other part of the city. Detwiler & Co. will explain all about it if you call either at their branch office on the grounds, or at No. 224 St. Clair street.

No Money Can Buy This Boy.

Mrs. William May Smith, of Provincetown, Mass., a portrait of whose little son is given here, writes:

Master Smith.

"My baby was a frail little thing when he was born. He was nursed at the breast until he was four months old, when the doctor said he and his mother would both die if he was not weaned. We tried cow's milk, which was not adapted to his needs, so we used lactated food, following the directions exactly. Since then he has gained a pound a month, has had very little sickness, and seems strong and bright. One friend says of him: 'I would not have given two cents for him when he was two weeks old, but now, if he was mine, no money could buy him.' And I am sure his father and mother agree with the last clause of that statement."

ENGLISH AFFAIRS.

Some Gossip on British National Politics.

Organization of the New House of Commons—The Members Change Sides.

London, Aug. 18.—The Chronicle, labor liberal, says, regarding Lord Roseberry's appointment as foreign secretary, that there was a certain amount of negotiation with reference to the position he was to be given. He was first cast as secretary for Scotland and some appointments with that view. Then a sudden change occurred and he was appointed foreign secretary. The Chronicle urges the labor people not to oppose John Morley in New Castle.

Mr. Shaw Lefevre has been appointed first commissioner of works.

Sir Algernon Borthwick has refused the peerage which was offered him on condition that he transfer his seat (South Kensington) to Rt. Hon. C. T. Ritchie, who was defeated in the St. Georges division in the general election. The Rt. Hon. Edward Majoribanks, patronage secretary of the treasury, sent out last night his first whip asking the liberal members to assemble in the house of commons to-day.

The house of commons met to-day and writs were ordered issued for the elections to be held in the cases of members who had accepted office under the new administration. The members then changed sides, in accord with the change of government and the house adjourned for an hour. Before going to Osborne to-day there was a brief session of Mr. Gladstone's cabinet.

When the house of commons re-assembled Kier Hardie, labor member for Westham, made a motion to the effect that the house ought to hold an autumnal session. The speaker pronounced the motion out of order, and after issuing additional writs of election the house adjourned until 9 p. m.

France Surprised by an Abnormally High Temperature.

Paris, Aug. 18.—The intense heat is causing both surprise and discomfort throughout France. Several cases of sunstroke are reported. Not only was yesterday abnormally hot but the heat was attended by peculiar variations of barometer and thermometer.

At the observatory at Mont Souris at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the thermometer in half an hour rose from 86 to 98 1-2 degrees, and the barometer fell from 30 to 29.33. At 5 o'clock both instruments had resumed the normal state. At Bordeaux and Biarritz the mercury rose to 107; at Limoges to 105 in the shade.

BAD FIRE.

Entire Business Portion of a Small Town Destroyed.

Columbus, O., Aug. 18.—The business portion of South Charleston, O., 45 miles southeast of here, on the Little Miami railroad, was destroyed by fire this morning. It started in J. B. Allen's tin and stove store and owing to the inefficiency of the fire department, spread to Allen's grocery and dwelling; McIntyre's bakery, ice cream parlor and ice house; Harvey's meat store, Lucky's drug store, J. W. Lehigh's dwelling and furniture warerooms, Nicholson's grocery and dwelling and the Grand Army of the Republic hall. These were consumed. The loss will reach $30,000, most of the goods being saved. They are partially insured.

COMPLIMENTS OF THE BEE.

By special arrangement the Bee is enabled to furnish its patrons delightful rides on the Maumee River the remainder of the season for half price.

The elegant steamer Wellington R. Burt makes four day trips from Toledo to Perrysburg, stopping at Orchard Grove, Eden Park and Marengo Park.

The regular round trip fare is twenty cents. The coupon printed at the top of this page will be accepted for ten cents on any day trip of this boat. Cut out the coupon, put ten cents with it and take a ride on the Maumee.

This offer is good for round trips between any of the stopping places of the Burt. Perrysburg residents may avail themselves of this opportunity and come to Toledo and return for ten cents.

The offer is open to everybody. Use the privilege all you please. All it will cost is ten cents and a Bee coupon.

There is no more pleasant ride on the water than on the Maumee between Toledo and Perrysburg. The trips here mentioned include twenty-one miles of a ride. Half fare is always acceptable to travelers and pleasure seekers. Ten cents is remarkably cheap for these trips. The public is welcome to this offer, and the Bee hopes everybody will avail themselves of the opportunity.

Cut out the coupon, add ten cents and have an elegant time.

There's Tom Platt, he's still sawing wood and saying nothing, much the worse for Benjamin Harrison.

South Dakota has some corn 14 feet high, grown under the beneficent influence of the high tariff law!

They do say that the republicans will hardly nominate a candidate against Denny Donovan in the Fifth district.

Dollars to doughnuts the democrats will elect a part of their ticket in Fulton county this year. That's what the boys say, and the boys know.

A democrat will succeed the late John G. Warwick in congress. Wm. A. Lynch is the brainest democrat in that district and ought to go to Washington.

A man who has been reading the "Woman's Page," rises to remark that the "spots on the face of the sun" are not matters of so great moment as "freckles on the face of the daughter."

Several state institutions were ripped this week in the interest of the republican party. The reform governor is a fair sized ripper himself and encourages the boys in using the knife.

The Buffalo striking switchmen injured their cause at the outset of the trouble by destroying property. Resort to violence does not increase public sympathy, no matter how worthy a cause may be.

The democrats in Illinois are confident that Altgeld will be elected governor, and many well posted leaders are equally confident that Cleveland will have the electoral vote. Would that it might be so.

Mr. Joseph Pulitzer not only prints a perpendicular democratic newspaper, but he has contributed $10,000 to the campaign fund. Voluntary contributions are better than republican methods of fat-frying.

Texas democrats are in a row and threaten to hold two conventions. There are enough democrats down there to have half a dozen rows and still have two or three hundred thousand majority for the regular ticket.

Mr. Powderly worked the democratic racket several years and now takes a tack the other way for a change. Terrence has the reputation of being an adroit politician, but an old stager in politics can read him like a book.

Four years ago a democratic secretary of the treasury had a big surplus to bother him. This year Secretary Foster can go boating up the lakes and not worry about the cash left behind. The doors are open and the vault is empty.

The McKinley act increased the tariff on tin thirty per cent. or more. The pros and cons are now busy figuring out who gets the benefit, who pays the tax (which has mounted into many millions), and is it well for the canning industry and the consumer generally?

Our distinguished friend Col Brigham is a prospective candidate for congress in this district. It will be agreeable all around if he shall be the nominee. He might be elected, but what a deal of fun we'uns would have during the campaign. Then, again, he might be defeated. He has been, before now.

Newark and Columbus papers "roast" a Toledo reporter who said he attended the artillery camp at Newark the past week for the prpose of finding fault with the camp. Why abuse the reporter, when he admits that he obeyed home instructions? The newspaper that sent him is the narrow-eyed sinner.

Nancy Hanks isn't nearly so pretty a name as Maud S., but Nance is now queen of the turf. At Washington park, Chicago, yesterday, she trotted to beat her own record and beat the world's record. Time, 2:07 1-4. MMaud S.'s famous record is 2:08 3-4. Here's to Hanks, Nancy Hanks.

Senator T. P. Brown has been a gas trustee two whole weeks and as yet no plan has been railroaded for supplying the city with an abundance of natural gas. We have faith to believe that T. F. will solve the question before the snow flies. He is the most resourceful citizen in Toledo in many, many particulars.

Some interesting facts about Her Majesty's government: England has had 31 prime ministers under the rule of the house of Hanover, 10 of whom have held the office twice, and two—Early Derby and Mr. Gladstone—three times. Gladstone is now entering upon his fourth term, thus breaking the record. At the same time he breaks another record by taking the office when nearly 83 years old, no other premier ever having been appointed at such an advanced age.

The success or failure of a strike does not always determine the question of right, but it is certain that when strikes increase in number and magnitude, something must be wrong with the relations of government and trade. When conditions are right there is seldom or never trouble. And, as the republican party has been responsible for the shaping of trade laws over thirty years, whatever bad conditions exist must be attributed to that party. There is reason, sense and politics in this conclusion. It is a logical conclusion.

THE IRON MONGER'S FINE SCHEME.

The difference between the labor cost of a ton of steel rails in England and the United States is $3.78. A tariff duty of $13.44 per ton is imposed. The manufacturer gets a pretty big bonus on every ton. This is made necessary, from home consumers, because the manufacturers sell their exported goods in competition with free trade England. Under the tax law the trust is formed which "regulates" prices for the home market to compensate for low prices, which chance now and then to rule in open market. It is a fine scheme, and in any event the manufacturer is sure of his profit. The tariff covers all contingencies, and with the labor wage arranged to correspond with the ups and downs of prices, he has a sure thing and nothing more to ask for, by virtue of the votes of what Mr. Carnegie calls, in England, "the stupid people of America."

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

Politicians can hardly recall a presidential campaign when such inactivity and general lack of interest prevailed at this time of the year as at present. What it all augurs is difficult to premise. There is absolutely nothing stirring at the national headquarters of the democratic and republican organizations, though the agents of the latter are doing some persistent fat frying. The most active politics at present are found in the people's party, which represents everything, or so much of everything, that all the isms have special advocates. There is a freshness and novelty about a new party that is inspiring to the workers, hence the alliance folks are making much noise and will have some votes, but not enough to cut much of a figure.

The election will turn upon the vote of New York. Democrats and republicans alike concede this and the great work of the campaign will be done in that state by both parties. We have faith to believe that the agency which directed the Chicago convention against itself and made victory so easy will make New York democratic in November. The leaders evidently have an understanding. If so, Cleveland will certainly carr yhis own state.

Even Benjamin Harrison's warmest admirers do not believe he will be able to carry Indiana. The democrats claim it with confidence and base their claim upon a thoroughly complete canvass, upon the united front they represent, upon honest campaigning, and upon the Australian ballot system, which will prevent the repetition of themetho ds of Dorsey in 1880 and of Dudley in 1888.

The other states will undoubtedly vote as they did four years ago, except the democrats will receive a few electoral votes in Michigan and the republicans will take the new western states.

This is the situation the middle of August. A month hence possibilities and probabilities may be radcally changed. It is a long time until November. At present the democrats see nothing ahead that is at all discouraging.

DESPERATE BREAK

Of a Prisoner Who Escaped from the Allegheny County Jail.

Pittsburg, Aug. 18.—Charles Havers, alias Hunter, a notorious crook, sawed his cell door at the Allegheny county workhouse at 3 o'clock this morning, and after beating and cutting Keeper John W. Eberhart so that he will die, made his escape.

Havers was serving his third term of imprisonment. Yesterday he played sick, and did not work. He used a saw made of an old case-knife and with it cut the cell door.

Keeper Eberhart was beaten to insensibility with a bar of iron, badly cut with the saw-knife, and the murderous demon then jumped upon him, tramping his vitals out. Havers then threw his victim in his own cell, took his keys, locked the cell door, and with the keys opened his way to liberty. The prison officers did not discover the assault and escape until 6 o'clock this morning.

ENGLAND'S CABINET.

London, Aug. 18.—The members of the new cabinet started for Osborne to-day to accept the seals of office from Her Majesty. On a separate train the members of the retiring cabinet started to surrender the seals of office and to make the formal transfer of power to their successors. The liberal ministry generously cheered their opponents who courteously recognized the greeting.

FOR DEMOCRACY

The Situation Looks Bright in Pennsylvania.

Brief but Interesting Talk with President Daly, of the I. C. B. U.—Home Rule for Ireland.

President T. M. Daly, of the I. C. B. U, talked with a Bee this morning on the political situation in Pennsylvania.

"It looks well for democracy," he said, "but, of course, there is a large majority to overcome."

"What effect will the Homestead affair have on the political situation?"

"It cannot help being beneficial to democracy. The republican papers are endeavoring to show that the trouble is chiefly attributed to imported foreign labor. They cannot, however, explain away the fact that this labor was expressly imported to supplant American labor. I should judge that 20 per cent. of the skilled labor now on strike is purely American, while the balance is of the imported kind to which I have referred."

Mr. Daly is much interested in the home rule movement, and rejoices that Mr. Gladstone once more holds the reins.

"I have no doubt," he said, "but that Mr. Gladstone will succeed in pushing through his home rule bill. Of course it may be rejected by the house of lords, but that will eventually result in the abolishment of that institution."

"What effect will the disaffection in the Irish ranks have on the cause?"

"None, in my opinion. The McCarthyites and Parnellites will be practically a unit on all questions pertaining to the welfare of Ireland, and will vote with Gladstone on his home rule bill."

"YANKEE DOODLE."

Oberlin, O., Aug. 18.—Hugh Mosher, who was the original for Artist Willard's picture of "Yankee Doodle," died here yesterday, aged 73.

REPUBLICAN RELISHES.

Pretty Mad About It.

That eminent anarchistic editor and capitalist, Joseph Pulitzer, of the New York World, has contributed $10,000 to the democratic slush fund "to be used in western states."—St. Louis Star-Sayings.

Not Any Kind of Pressure?

Government employes have as good a right as anyone to contribute money for political purposes, but they cannot be placed under any kind of pressure to secure contributions, nor be in any way discriminated against if they do or do not give.—Boston Journal.

What Are the Other "Interests?"

The conservative business interests of the country are almost unanimously in favor of the re-election of President Harrison this year, and as they are very strong in all the doubtful states, their influence can hardly fail to insure republican success at the polls.—Dover Republican.

Sit Down, if You Please Mr. Weaver.

The alliance people are also figurking on having a hundred members of the next house of representatives, and dictating the election of speaker. All these statements are to be classed in the category of rainbow-chasing. The people's party is not to take control of the government just yet.

Pig Iron, the Staff of Life!

It appears, then, that the McKinley bill is not strangling business to any great extent, and with pig iron cheaper than ever known the duty on pig iron is not a tax paid by our consumers to any great extent. When the free traders turn from their maxims to considering the markets their maxims are knocked out every time.—Louisville Commercial.

"On the Run" Again.

New York is given up, and the drowning democracy clutches at the western straw to save itself from sinking. Mr. Cleveland confesses defeat in his own state even before the campaign has fairly opened. They will see defeat written all over the western skies in September. Democracy is on the run."—N. Y. Recorder.

Protection Did It All.

In 30 years the carpet production of the United States has increased from 13,000,000 yards to 74,000,000 yards, and under the protective system the prices have declined all along the line. In other words, production has increased six times, and prices are about one-sixth what they were 30 years ago.—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

And Why Are the Thrifty, Poor?

Democracy hates the thrifty poor. If the provident poor man has an eye to his own interests and to those of his fellows he will decline to support his enemy and will champion the principles of his republican friends, who will do all in their power to aid him in his struggle for advancement and power.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

A Sensational Development.

Gov. Winans' withdrawal from the gubernatorial race at this late day, when his chances of securing a renomination were to all appearances of the best, is a sensational political development whose significance the democrats would be glad to conceal. That withdrawal did not come voluntarily from the governor's pen. It was wrung from him by the pressure of events.—Detroit Tribune.

Here You Have It.

This year, as in 1888, the votes necessary to elect a republican president must be obtained in the north. The states which went for Harrison four years ago are the ones upon which his fate depends in the present struggle, and the campaign should be directed accordingly. Republican votes in the south count for nothing, and it is useless to pay any attention to them so far as the practical interests of the party are concerned.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

BOTH AT THE TOP,

And They Are Home on a Visit.

Two Toledo Boys Who Have Gained Prominence in the World of Artists in Europe and America—The Water Color Society.

'Tis pretty warm weather for painting or any other art work just at present, consequently the colors and brushes are thrown aside, and Toledo artists are taking a respite from work, storing up energy for the fall work the while. All lovers of art will be pleased to learn that the Toledo Water Color society expects to meet shortly, and make arrangements for its annual exhibition to come off before the holidays. Speaking of the Water Color society is a reminder that there is in town at present two old Toledo boys who have as artists reached the rounds at the top of the ladder, and are recognized on both sides of the Atlantic as men of unusual ability in their respective lines.

One is Carlton T. Chapman, who is visiting his parents on Superior street. He has a charming studio in New York, and is equally at home in Paris. His forte is marine subjects, and his brush is as deft with water colors as it is with oil, and his etchings are numbered with the best. Somehow or other he can give a touch to marine scenes that puts life and snap into the picture. Toledoans probably noticed some of his work in Scribner's monthly recently, when he illustrated a series of articles on ocean steamships.

Some six or seven years ago Mr. Chapman used to have a little studio in the Chamber of Commerce building. It was a modest affair, very modest, in fact, for he was then a struggling artist or student—all artists are "struggling" at some period of their existence; it would take all the romance out of the profession if they didn't have to struggle. Well, he was a struggling artist in his five-by-eight quarters. He had among his acquaintances a printer, who was then setting type on a Toledo paper, Luther E. Van Gorder by name. Van Gorder dropped in at the studio at odd times and did a little drawing. He had a liking for dabbling in colors, and was quite clever with his pencil. He was finally persuaded to go to New York and study. He did so, entering the National Academy of Design. He jumped right to the front, taking the Scott medal the first year for accuracy in drawing from the cast. Some of his pictures have taken great prominence. One of recent date, a study in still life, a violin, music, etc., has been reproduced in some of the leading art journals of the world and commented upon widely. He excels in pastorals—in quiet romantic bits, and his are said to be among the best, if not the best, produced in New York city.

Mr. Van Gorder is at present painting in oil a birdseye view of the Ketcham farm, which is to be reproduced in an etching.

Both Mr. Van Gorder and Mr. Chapman are to be made honorary members of the Toledo Water Color society.

DEMOCRATIC DESSERT.

A Wonderful Strain.

There are four letters of acceptance due from the four presidential candidates. It is a great country that can stand it.—Washington Post (Ind.).

The Party Brand, the Difference.

The republican press speaks respectfully of Knute Nelson, the republican candidate for governor of Minnesota, as a low tariff man. If he were a democrat Mr. Nelson would be stigmatized as "a rabid free trader."Rochester Herald.

The "Dearest" of Them All.

Republicans who do not like to compare Harrison with Cleveland may compare him with other republican presidents. And by doing so they will find that he is costing the country an average of $100,000,000 a year more than Arthur did.—St. Louis Republic.

An Insult to Be Avenged.

The labor party of Great Britain have requested Keir Hardie to use his utmost exertions to refund the $500 which Mr. Carnegie contributed to his campaign expenses. As Hardie has not a penny in the world, it would seem to be in order for the labor organizations to chip in and help carry out this resolution. That is the quickest way to avenge the insult.—N. O. Times-Democrat.

The Truth Told.

The late session of congress, instead of making a profligate record, has paid over $700,000,000 of debts contracted by the late congress, without increasing the aggregate appropriations two-thirds that sum; and now, the country must soon face increased taxes or national bankruptcy as the logical sequel of the profligate government obligations assumed by the billion congress.—Philadelphia Times.

Duty of the Average Citizen.

It is the duty af every voter to inform himself concerning the important issues of the day, so that he can vote intelligently and on the right side. He should also aid the organization of his party to make its work more effective. But there is no reason why the average citizen should neglect his business, or give up his productive labor, in order to look after the political interests of the state.—Atlanta Constitution.

Two Can Play at the Game.

The Pacific coast is writhing over the prospective effect of the action of the government of Victoria, Australia, increasing the import duty on Oregon pine to $9.25 per thousand feet and the duty on canned fruit to 6 cents per pound, or about 15 cents per can. This is in retaliation against the McKinley bill. The blow is particularly severe to fruit growers and canners who have been for years engaged in building up a market in Australia for California canned goods.—Wilmington (Del.) Every Evening.

Tax-Law Aid for Free Trade Sale.

During the last year the exports of manufactures of iron and steel from the United States amounted in value to upward of $32,500,000, embracing every variety of production, from horseshoe nails to steam engines and printing presses. These products are sold in the open markets of the world under conditions of absolutely free trade. Yet it is pretended that but for a high tariff the iron and steel manufacturers of this country would go to utter rack and ruin.—Philadelphia Record.

The Burden of Complaint.

The great burden of complaint now coming up from the organized labor and from the workingman everywhere is not merely that some are getting better pay than others, but that the "few are by their combined capital and scheming getting into possession of about all of the wealth which is produced by 65,000,000 people and rightly belongs to those 65,000,000. And this could not be possible except robbery was legalized and stimulated.—The Vanguard (People's).

A QUEER CASE.

This Man Claims to be the Borden Murderer,

And He Gives Himself Up to the Authorities and Tells How He Did It.

Fall River, Mass., Aug. 18.—Charles H. Peckham, of Central village, Westport, Mass., walked into the central police station this morning and said to Assistant Marshal Fleet: "Well, Mr. Marshal, I killed Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Borden and I have come from home to give myself up. I went over the back fence and through the rear door of the Borden house two weeks ago to-day and I killed both of those people out of pure love for blood. I went out the rear door and over the back fence and walked over the New Bedford road home. I'm the murderer and I want to be locked up."

The marshal took him to the cell-room and searched him. He found a pocketbook with a few receipts in it and also unearthed some official communications from the Russian bureau at Washington. Peckham is 62 years old, about five feet six inches tall and has a thin gray beard. He says he leases a farm from Edmund Davis. The police have started to hunt up his relatives and friends.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIX YEARS.

The Age of a Resident of Huron County.

Norwalk, Aug. 18.—Martin Kellogg, Huron county's oldest resident, who was born in Rutland, Vt., September 21, 1786, died last night at his home four miles south of this city on a farm, where he had lived 80 years.

A COLLISION.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 18.—At 5:40 yesterday afternoon passenger train No. 112, Rockport to Boston, collided with a freight train at Paradise crossing, Beverly, on the Boston & Maine railroad. Both engines were demolished. Brakeman Frank Healy was killed. Engineer Jones of the freight suffered a fracture of the skull and died while en route to the hospital. Engineer Ray was badly injured about the legs. Fireman Parker had his legs broken and was otherwise injured. Jas. Whalen's legs were broken and his scalp badly wounded. Conductor Macomber had his ankle fractured.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Ft. Scott, Kan., Aug. 18.—Early this morning the Ft. Scott planing mill, together with contents, was destroyed by fire. The Novelty carriage works, adjoining the planing mill, were badly damaged. The total loss is about $25,000.

SOLDIERS TAKEN

By Desperate Miners in Tennessee.

The State Militia Badly Frightened

And Afraid to Advance on the Miners.

The Governor Seems to Have Lost His Nerve.

The Convict Lease System Must Go or Such Troubles Will Be of Frequent Occurrence.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Bulletins posted in the leading buildings of this city tell the following story:

"Tennessee to arms."

"Will you allow your state to be disgraced?"

"The miners have captured soldiers. Let volunteers come at once."

Lieut. Royster is in the armory ready to receive volunteers; bring any kind of weapon you may have."

A thousand people stood in the drizzling rain reading these bulletins. Terror was added when Col. Woolford wired from Harriman that the 30 Knoxville soldiers had been captured en route to Oliver Springs. Wires were cut and no one could say what fate they would meet. Mayor Andrews wired Col. Woolford not to leave Harriman with the boys if he doubted his ability to put up a successful fight, and the dispatch, together with the story of the capture of the Knoxville boys caused instant demoralization among the troops and they are badly phased. It is intimated that fully 3,000 armed miners are in the field in East Tennessee and the fight against the troops is uneven to say the least.

Gov. Buchanan has not offered to assist the little knot of men from Chattanooga and no other state troops are even thinking of going to the mine district. Citizens are very indignant at the governor's course and loud threats of lynching the governor are freely made on the streets.

A corporal's guard is trying to corral the unwilling militiamen and get them into the armories. Some have been arrested, but very few can be found.

Some of the citizens are forming companies to leave at 5 o'clock for the scene of trouble and all kinds of weapons are being gathered for use in the fight which is sure to come.

ANARCHY REIGNS.

Company of Militia Captured by the Miners.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Anarchy reigns supreme in the mining regions north of this city. Excitement here is intense, and is heightened by the lack of definite information from the scenes of the trouble, the wires having been cut. The mob is in actual possession of the property of the East Tennessee railroad in the neighborhood of Coal Creek and Oliver. They have cut the wires in numerous places, torn up the tracks in every direction, and captured every locomotive in the mining region.

At a late hour Tuesday night over 1,000 miners captured three locomotives and several empty coal cars at Coal Creek and forced the engineers to take them to Oliver Springs, where about ninety-five convicts were employed in the mines of the Cumberland Coal company. They arrived at Oliver about 4 o'clock in the morning; at 7 o'clock they assaulted the stockade and a lively battle ensued. The stockade was defended by 50 picked guards and a company of 38 militiamen. Two companies of National Guards, en route from Chattanooga via Harriman, were compelled to take a side track a few miles from Oliver on account of the displaced rails.

Hundreds of shots were exchanged, but strange to say no one was injured. The guards and militiamen, seeing that it was useless to combat a force of 1,000 infuriated and determined men, quietly surrendered. The convicts, guards, and soldiers were loaded on a train of flat cars and the engineer, at the point of a Winchester rifle, was compelled to pull the train out in the direction of Knoxville. The stockade was then burned to the ground. Arriving at Clinton, permission was obtained from the railway officials to bring the convicts to this city. The train, which was the only one in or out for 24 hours, arrived in the Knoxville & Ohio yards about 3 o'clock, and was soon surrounded by an immense throng of the curious. A special train left the station at 5 p. m., taking the convicts to the main prison at Nashville.

Four convicts escaped between Oliver and this city. Communication with Coal Creek was restored this afternoon. The line was no sooner re-opened than the miners took peaceable possession of the office at Coal Creek, and to prevent the handling of regular business filed thousands of words of stuff. They paid for all messages at regular rates and the company could not refuse them. The miners have two or three operators employed, and it is impossible to get a message through with anything like privacy. Sheriff Holloway of this (nox) county, this afternoon received a dispatch from Gov. Buchanan, telling him to summon 500 men at once and send them by the nearest route to Oliver Springs and Coal Creek to aid in suppressing the trouble now going on in that vicinity.

A dispatch from Chattanooga says that 3,000 men have volunteered as militia and will go to Coal Creek this afternoon. Threats of lynching Governor Buchanan if he ventures into this section are freely made. The governor is still "waiting for developments." It is not likely he will leave Nashville.

ANOTHER TRAIN CAPTURED

By the Desperate Miners—Their Ultimatum to the Governor.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—A special from Coal Creek received at 1 o'clock this morning says that six hundred miners captured a train at midnight at Jellico. The engineer refused to pull it out, but the close proximity to his head of a dangerous looking Winchester, made him quickly obey all commands made upon him. They ran at the rate of 50 miles an hour through tunnels and over ridges to Coal Creek, the few keeping possession of the train and going to Clinton after the miners there, mentioned previously.

It is announced that the miners have wired their ultimatum to the governor which is that unless he orders the withdrawal of soldiers and convicts they will attack the fort this morning. An answer was received in a short time evading the question and advising a pacific tone, saying: "Be orderly, be quiet." This greatly incensed the miners and they at once wired him an exact copy of their previous dispatch and are awaiting an answer.

The plan of the miners is to attack under cover of darkness and can this be averted until daylight the chances for such a move will be slim.

Col. Carter Wolford who has his "brave Chattanoogi soldiers" at Harriman still, has wired Supt. Munger to furnish himself and troops transportation to Knoxville.

A special from Coal Creek received at to tell correctly just what effect the receipt miners' telegram has been received from the governor at Nashville. Buchanan wires that he will remove the soldiers and convicts in a few days. It would be hard to tell correctly just what effect the receipt of this message had upon the miners. The cool headed ones, the men who lay all plans, and who successfully carry them out, take the answer as final. They have been apprised of the scheme for the abrogation of the lease system, which at shortest must take 20 days, and realize that troops and convicts cannot well be removed "with dignity" before that time. They are counseling the men whom they control to return to their homes, as everything is now settled. On the other hand, the hot-headed ones want to make the attack anyway, and think Buchanan is merely figuring for time on which to get more troops at Coal Creek. But there is one thing sure, the prospects of an attack are much gloomier, and should one be made it will be by but about half the original number massed in the scene.

The Governor Ill.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Gov. Buchanan's physicians declare that the governor is dangerously ill and may not recover. They say that the strain upon his nerves has completely exhausted him, and that he is a physical wreck. In the event of his death the command of affairs will devolve upon the speaker of the house, W. C. Dismukes, who is a man of nerve and pluck.

"WOODS ARE FULL OF THEM."

Review of the Terrible Situation in the Tennessee Mining District.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug 18.—Advices from Oliver Springs say: The guards in the stockade were reinforced by 28 militia from Knoxville, after a ride full of excitement and surrounded by unknown dangers en route. All sorts of rumors are current as to the number of miners who are ready to attack or are prepared for some new form of lawlessness. Various estimates are made of the numbers of these lawbreakers, some of the estimates running up into thousands, and a general opinion prevails that "the woods are full of them." The number may be greatly exaggerated, but they doubtless have a reserve force which will number fully 20,000 resolute men, inured to hardship and fatigue, many of them veterans of the late war, and should they break out into open rebellion and defy the troops sent to quell the disturbances, it will prove a very difficult body of men to handle, familiar as they are with all the mountain retreats, passes and by-paths.

Conservative people think that they will hesitate to oppose the troops, their main object seeming to be to create a public sentiment which will destroy any favor which exists toward the convict lease system,

The stockade which was last attacked is four miles from Oliver Springs, and the troops now en route to that point are confident that they will meet with opposition, but are determined to face any number of rioters who may come in their way. Judge Moon, of this circuit, now holding court in Jasper, Marion county, near the scene of Monday's attack, has made a vigorous charge to the grand jury, summoned a strong posse, and will put an effective quietus on the doings of any more mobs in that district. In Anderson county, where the trouble now exists, the situation is entirely different, as the courts are not in session, the community is largely in sympathy with the miners, and the processes of law are not available. Judge Moon's address to the grand jury of Marion county was a scathing one, full of fire and determination.

Associated with him is Foster V. Brown, assistant attorney general, and his aid, A. H. Trewhitt, and these three will stand like a stone wall to not only prevent further depredations, but to bring condign punishment on the heads of all offenders. The sheriff, who is in sympathy with the miners, will not under any circumstances enforce the law, and openly states that he will not serve warrants on the miners. Enough special deputies will be summoned to see that his efforts are not effective to nullify the law, Judge Moon himself signing the papers, and becoming the public prosecutor in his own name. Friends of the miners say that all will subside as soon as the mines are rid of the convicts, but most citizens fear that it will take the whole power of the state, and possibly the aid of the national government, to quell the disturbance. The full force of the state militia as now enlisted does not exceed more than 2,000, possibly less than 1,500, and they cannot all be brought together inside of a week.

In the meantime if the miners are as strong and determined as reported, they will have accomplished their ends before they can be met by any sufficient force. At Coal Creek a force of about 150 men are entrenched and have been for about a year. These are provided with modern arms, a six-pounder, a Gatling gun, and are not likely to be attacked. Should they be, there will be a bloody fight, as they are well drilled, under perfect discipline, and will fight to the death, for they know that there will be little or no quarter given them should they be captured, as there has been bad blood between them and the surrounding miners for months.

Anderson county, the scene of the present and latest phase of the mine troubles, is bisected by the Clinch river, the southern side of the river being almost wholly agricultural, and not greatly involved in the trouble. North of the river the coal field is in Waldron's ridge, the southeastern face of the Cumberland.

MEAGRE NEWS

From the Seat of War in Tennessee—Reporters Have No Show.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—There is great excitement here over the mining troubles, but it is mainly over the events of last night, as nothing serious has been hear from the seat of trouble since last night. The state authorities have received numerous telegrams from Knoxville this morning, but none of them convey news of any new developments. Adjutant-General Norman says there has been no new movement for the last 12 or 24 hours, the situation being the same as last night. There had been no attack on the troops at Coal Creek, nor could any information be had as to the probability of any.

That the garrison was in a state of seige, however, was shown by a telegram from Col. Keilar Anderson this morning saying: "I have not surrendered and will not surrender until ordered to do so by the governor." This telegram came from Knoxville however, and as there is no communication between Coal Creek and Knoxville the telegram was doubtless delayed as another telegram was shortly afterwards received at the capital saying the soldiers under Col. Anderson had been captured by the miners and were on their way to Knoxville with the captured of Coal Creek.

The miners have now abolished convict labor, at least temporarily, in every mining camp in Tennessee.

A number of deputy sheriffs left here this morning with about 200 conscripts to aid in restoring order, and several companies had left at 2 o'clock this morning.

Gov. Buchanan is still the subject of much bitter comment, and on some sides it is charged that he is in sympathy with the miners and knew a week ago what they were going to do. On the other hand he insists that he has been trying to have the matter settled peacefully, and was surprised at the outbreak.

Two carloads of convicts from Oliver Springs reached here at 11 o'clock. Their story of the release is exactly as heretofore telegraphed. The exact facts from the seat of war cannot be had promptly, as newspaper reporters caught by the miners are carried out and warned not to return under penalty of death.

A DEMON IN THE MINES.

Experience of a Prospector in Alaska —The Ghost Dispatched.

"I caught the Alaska gold fever last summer, and left San Francisco with a small party of fortune-hunters bound for Sitka," said W. H. Trowbridge at the Laclede. "We went up into the mountains and prospected for some weeks without much success, and at last fell in with a party of Indians, who related marvelous stories of rich places mines some forty miles further on. They said, however, that the mines were situated in a narrow valley, whose only entrance was guarded by a demon, upon which neither the arrow of the Indian nor the bullet of the pale-face had any effect. My companions were somewhat superstitious, and, despite my urging, declined to accompany me to the new El Dorado. They promised, however, to wait a week for my return, and taking a supply of provisions and my Winchester I set out alone. It was just sunrise when I descended into the valley. Everything was quiet as the grave and ther was no sign of th demon guards, but I felt that I was in the presence of danger. My nerves were so unstrung that I shook as with the ague. I sat down on a rock with my rifle across my lap and kept a keen lookout. I suddenly felt myself thrown from the rock, there was an unearthly shriek and I was rolled down a steep declivity so quickly that I did not get a glimpse of my assailant. I feel that it would never do to go back to camp without the scalp of the inhospitable brute, whatever it might be, so I scrambled back. There was not so much as a crow in sight. I walked around the rock, rifle in hand and peered into every nook and cranny, but could find nothing. Suddenly the thing leaped upon my back, bore me down and again rolled me into the shallow gorge, while the hills rang with its mocking laughter. I began to have great respect for the judgment of the indians and the fears of my superstitious companions. I had evidently been assaulted by an invisible spirit. I was afraid to rise lest the terrible thing would again attack me. While I lay there debating what to do a grinning, ape-like face peered over the ledge of rock. In a moment my courage came back to me. The face drew back. I brought my rifle to a full cock and waited. Again the face appeared. I fired and the creature sprang into the air with a bullet through the brain. It was an old Indian—so hideous, so horribly deformed that Caliban would have scorned to have called him brother. I laid the ghost at, but I found no gold."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE HUMAN TARGET.

I like to examine the old showman's scrap-book, for it contained many curious clippings. Here is one of them:

WANTED—A MAN OF NERVE TO stand as a target for an expert knife-thrower. Robinson's Circus.

When I asked my old friend why he had preserved the advertisement he told this story:

"Pat Lancy was a jolly Irishman, employed by the first circus that I belonged to, and his business was to superintend the erection and removal of the seats.

"But Pat was ambitious to become a performer, and several times went into training, but he only succeeded in making his companions laugh at his repeated failures.

"After many disappointments Pat had a bright idea and providing himself with a dozen dagger-like knives he busied himself in throwing them at a wooden target about 20 feet distant.

"He had discovered his talent at last, for the success that followed his practice was really remarkable and astonished even himself.

"After he was able to plant the knives in his wooden target at about the points he desired to hit he drew the form of a man on it and took delight in seeing how near he could come to the human outline without touching it.

"Then the difficulty appeared, for Pat knew that his performance would be of no interest unless he had a living man to stand before the target and run the risk of being killed and he could find no one in the troupe willing to play the part.

"Then the advertisement was published and several weeks passed without anything being heard from it.

"One day while we were in western Illinois it was answered in person by one of the oddest-looking men I ever saw—a tall, pale, sunken-cheeked, bright-eyed, nervous man, who said that his name was Juan.

"I was present at the first trial, and I never saw a man look so happy as Juan did when he stood before the target and faced Pat, who had his hands full of the murderous-looking knives.

"Then Pat Lancy became Paland, the great Roman knife-thrower, and was billed to appear for the first time in America at Peoria.

"Though his audience were perceptibly affected as each knife was making its journey, Juan never winced.

"Pat continued to improve in skill, and Juan was always perfectly willing that he should attempt any new feat, no matter how dangerous it might be. In fact, the more dangerous the better Juan appeared to enjoy it.

"After the knife-throwing act had been going on for a couple of weeks, and we had crossed the river into Iowa, Juan came to me and said: 'Do you know that Pat will kill me some day?'

"That was the only time that Juan ever spoke to me on the subject, and I then feared that he would not perform again; but he did, and twice each day was ready and apparently anxious to play his part.

"Yet I noticed a great change in him, and an extreme restlessness that left him only when he was in the ring and Pat was planking the knives around him.

"When we reached the little city of Mt. Pleasant, Juan was quite sick and did not leave the tent, and we feared that he would not be able to perform in the afternoon. In the morning a few of us took a walk about the town, and also visited the insane asylum, where the physician in charge kindly received us and showed us through the institution.

"In the afternoon, Juan was out of bed and ready for his performance, looking pleased, as he always did at such times, and impatient to begin. After the performance he entered the dressing tent, where I was sitting, and prepared to change his clothes. In a few minutes the superintendent of the asylum entered with our manager.

"'That is the man,' said the doctor, pointing at Juan.

"Juan appeared to recognize him and asked, 'Must I go with you?'

"'Yes,' answered the doctor, and turning to our manager, he continued: 'It is a strange case, for that man you call Juan is intelligent and harmless, and has been confined only on account of his belief that when he dies he will certainly be lost unless some one besides himself kills him with a knife, and he is continually beseeching his friends to stab him to the heart.

"'About two months ago he escaped from the asylum, and we could learn nothing of him until I saw him in the circus ring a few minutes ago making a target of himself in the evident hope that one of the knives would kill him.'"—Boston Globe.

To-morrow or some other day,
If God should bid make reply,
"What would'st thou?" I shall say:

"O God, Thy world was great and fair,
Yet give me to forget it clean,
Nor vex me more with things that were,
And things that might have been!

"I loved and toiled, throve ill or well—
Lived certain years and murmured not.
Now grant me in that land to dwell,
Where all things are forgot!

"For others, Lord, the purging fires,
The loves reknit, the crown, the palm;
For me the death of all desires
In everlasting calm."

BIG FOUR SENSATION.

The Railroad Company Hard at Work

To Find What Become of Lost Freight.

Experts Going Through the Books and Clerks Being Given an Examination.

Columbus, O., Aug. 18.—The investigation of the Big Four freight department was resumed yesterday. Third Assistant Auditor E. C. Scharf and Traveling Auditor J. W. Hewitt arrived here from Cincinnati and with Mr. J. H. Lane, the road's expert accountant, continued the examination of Agent Evans' books. When seen at the Neil House bith Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Scharf stated that they had as yet made no discoveries worthy of note.

Said Mr. Hewitt: "If any is crooked I think they are too smooth to have it apparent on the books. We may not discover any thing wrong with the books even if a wholesale robbery has been going on."

"Well, I don't know about that," rejoined Mr. Scharf. "You don't know what we might find out before this business is over."

There are ot be two investigations of the affair. One is the examinaton of the books and taking of the testimony of clerks and other employes, which is now in progress. The other is to be an investigation personally superintended by General Manager Ramsey, of Cincinnati. At the latter inquiry the merchants who it is claimed have sufferede losses in shipments over the road will be heard. Detective Schlutz received the following telegram in regard to the investigation said to be desired by the unfortunate shippers:

Cincinnati, O., August 16, 1892.

I will advise you later of date fixed for investigation, so that you can have your evidence ready. Do not attend any investigation until notified by me.

J. RAMSEY.

Detective Schultz has secured an affidavit from Levi Fay, who testifies that he was formerly employed by Agent Evans, and had knowledge while thus occupied of hay and corn being taken from cars consigned to eastern points and fed to Mr. Evans' horses. Fay also claims that he was pai dby the cashier of the Big Four road for his services at Evans' stable. William Schrull also files an affidavit to the effect that Thomas Hopkins, the brother-in-law of Evans, attempted to sell him several bales of hay, but there is nothing in the affidavit showing from wahr source the hay was secured.

Mr. L. S. Ayers, a well-known merchant, whose palce of business is at 130 East Town street, came to the front with a peculiar statement. He says that Mr. Hopkins, the brother-in-law of Mr. Evans, has called at his place a number of times to sell him goods, representing that they were unclaimed freight, and that Mr. Evans commissioned him to dispose of them. Mr. Ayers remembers distinctly of buying a lot of brushes from Hopkins at one time, and at another bought a gross of wash pans for which he paid $2, and "they were dirt cheap at that price," continued Mr. Ayres. "I thought at first that everything was straight, and that they were doing a legitimate business, but the frequent calls of that man Hopkins to my place to try to sell me goods convinced me there was something wrong, and I quit buying of him."

Detective Stockton returned here this afternoon, and intimates that a sensation is to be sprung at another point in the state.

PEOPLE'S PARTY

Holding a Convention Down in Tennessee.

A Look Over the Situation—Governor Buchanan in a Peculiar Situation.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—The state convention of the people's party is in session here today for the purpose of nominating a state ticket. The meeting is an adjourned session of the convention that met here on the 25th of June and nominated an electoral ticket and delegates to the Omaha convention. The platform adopted at that time denounces both the old parties as enemies of the people, demands free coinage of silver, and charges the democratic party in congress with violating its pledges to the people.

After adopting this platform fusion is out of the question, and the four parties will vote for their own tickets, state and national, at the November election.

Up to within a week Gov. Buchanan, who was formerly president of the state alliance, and who withdrew from the race for the democratic nomination, owing to the feeling created against him by his indorsement of the sub-treasury and other alliance doctrines, had been regarded as the choice of to-day's convention for the gubernatorial nomination. So much feeling has been created in alliance circles, however, by his exercise of the pardoning power in the case of Col. Clay King that his position is problematical. Several prominent alliance men have declared that under no circumstances will they support the ticket if his name is placed upon it.

MISSOURI PRODUCTS.

Immense Shipments of Zinc and Lead.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 18.—The Labor Commission of Missouri has just issued a statement showing the exports by rail from the various counties of Missouri during the year 1891, which shows that the lead and zinc output has passed that of corn and oats, the former having amounted to nearly $500,000,000 during the year. Poultry, butter and eggs make a good third, with $460,000,000, while coal and iron come fourth with a little less than $4,000,000.

One hundred and five counties are returned as shipping cattle, hogs and poultry, while only fifteen counties shipped zinc and lead. The statement is accompanied by a map with shipments from each county printed upon it, and one peculiar feature developed by the map is that six counties have no railroads, and hence no shipments. The total value of shipments from the state during 1891, is given as $125,000,000.

THE CARNEGIE STRIKE

Has Affected the Toledo Bridge Works.

Unable to Get Steel, Work is Practically Suspended on the Large Contracts.

Operations at the Toledo Bridge plant have been practically abandoned on account of the Carnegie strike at Homestead.

In conversation with a Bee this morning Secretary Smith, of the company, said: "We are running, but are only able to work on small contracts, and have shut down wholly on big work on account of this labor trouble at Homestead. We get all of our large-sized shapes from Carnegie, and since that plant has been tied up by a strike, of course it has been impossible to ship any steel. We were out about the first of this month and have been shut down, so far as big jobs are concerned, since that time. All of our orders given with the Carnegie mills for July delivery are still tied up by the strike. We must have their beams and other shapes for big work, and it is no use to try to put up any contract without them. We are able to get some steel from other eastern mills, which keeps us going about half force on small work.

"The Cleveland Bridge Works have been compelled to shut down for the same reason."

WITH A LARGE NOISE,

The Illinois Republican Campaign Is Opened.

Meeting of The State Clubs—Whitelaw Reid on Hand to Give Eclat to the Occasion.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18.—The state capital is to-day the rallying point for representative republicans of Illinois and surrounding states upon the occasion of the annual convention of the state league of republican clubs.

To-day in reality opens the republican campaign in this state, and the fact that Illinois is now regarded as one of the battle grounds in the contest of November is evidenced in the fact that Hon. Whitelaw Reid, the republican candidate for the vice presidency, has journeyed all the way from New York to give eclat to the present gathering.

The convention was called to order shortly before noon in the state house by Hon. W. W. Tracy, president of the league, over one thousand delegates and four times that number of spectators being present. The report of the secretary shows a large increase in the membership of the league during the past two years, the membership in 1890 being only about 85,000, while there are now nearly 100,000 members enrolled in the different clubs composing the league.

The principal business of the convention consists in the election of officers and members of the new executive committee, and the election of 48 delegates to the national republican league convention, which meets at Buffalo in September.

Hon. Whitelaw Reid reached Chicago this morning, and left at once for this city on a special train under escort of the members of the executive committee, and representatives of the city republican clubs. He will reach here at 3 o'clock and will be escorted with honors to the convention. After his address speeches will be delivered by Congressman Burrows, of Michigan, and Dolliver, of Iowa.

THINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

A little girl did not want to pray when she retired to rest. I do not like to tell you her true name, so I will call her Helen.

allow the winter to kill them or the light-

"Have you anything to thank God for?" asked her mother.

"No," said Helen, "you and papa give me everything."

"Not for your pleasant home?" asked mother.

"It is my papa's house; he let's me live in it."

"Where did the wood come from to build it?" asked mother.

"From trees," answered Helen, and they grow in big forests."

"Who planted the big forests? Who gave the rain to water them? Who gave the sun to warm them? Who did not allow the winter to kill them or the lightening to blast them? Who kept them growing frim little trees big enough to build houses with? Not papa, not man; it was God."

Helen looked her mother in the eye, and then said, "Papa bought nails to make it with."

"What are nails made of?" asked mamma.

"Iron," answered Helen, "and men dig iron out of the ground."

"Who put the iron into the ground and kept it safe there till the men wanted it? It was God."

"We got this carpet from carpet-men," said Helen, drawing her small, fat foot across it.

"Where did the carpet men get the wool to make it from?"

"From farmers," answered Helen.

"And where did the farmers get it?"

"From sheep's and lambs' backs," said the little girl.

"And who clothed the lambs in dresses good enough for us? for your dresses is made of nothing but lambs' wool. The best thing we can get is their cast-off dresses. Where did the lambs get such good stuff?"

"God gave it to them, I suppose," said the little girl.

"It is you that gives me bread, mother," said she quickly.

"But, said the mother, "the flour we got from the store, and the store bought it from the miller, and the miller took the wheat from the farmer, and the farmer had it from the ground—and d'd the ground grow it all itself?"

"No," cried Helen suddenly, "God grew it. The sun and the rain, the wind and the air are his, and he sent them to the cornfield. The earth is his, too. And so God is at the bottom of everything, isn't he, mother?"

"Yes," said the mother, "God is the origin of every good and perfect gift which we enjoy."

The little girl looked serious. She looked thinking. "Then, mamma," she said, at last, "I can't make a prayer long enough to thank God for everything."

"And have you nothing to ask his forgiveness for?" asked the little girl's mother.

"Yes," she said, in a low tone, "for not feeling grateful, and in trying to put him out of my thoughts."

After that Helen never refused to pray.—Christian Observer.

SOME NEW TROUT.

Caught in a Tributary of Kern River.

Three specimens of trout caught in Mount Whitney creek, on Mount Whitney, by Mr. Harvey, of Lone Pine, Inyo county, Cal., and by him given to the Hon. George S. Mills, fish commissioner of Nevada, who in turn sent them to William H. Sharkley, were sent to Dr. David S. Jordan, president of Leland Stanford, Jr., University, with the request that he classify them. The following is what Dr. Jordan has to say of them:

"They are the famous golden trout of Mount Whitney and the Upper Kern river, which has attracted the attention of anglers for some little time, but which has not yet, so far as I know, received any adequate notice in print.

"The trout were first brought to my notice by Lieut. Wheeler's geological survey, which brought me specimens in 1877. These were not in very good condition. I regarded them as of the same kind as the trout in the headwaters of the Colorado, at the same time calling attention to the remarkable distribution of species on both sides of the desert and the mountains. Later on I received other small specimens, but still in such poor condition that I could do nothing more with them. The three received were in perfect condition, and I have had a colored painting made of them. The fish is really a distinct species of trout, entirely different from any found elsewhere, either in the Rocky Mountains or Sierra Nevadas. The very small size of its scales, the lack of teeth on the hyoid bones, and the peculiar color markings are all distinctive of this trout, which will in time receive a name of its own.

"It seems evident, so far as one can judge of such matters, that this trout is descended from the trout of Western Colorado, which abound in the tributaries of Clear river, the Green river and the Grand river and in the Gunnison district. But in being separated from these trout it has undergone a considerable change, and one would think this separation must have occurred before the Sierra Nevadas were elevated. It has already been claimed by geologists that the Kern valley, although on the California side of the Sierra, is geologically a part of the great basin. Its trout, at any rate, are wholly different from the rainbow trout of California."—San Francisco Chronicle.

CHANGE of LIFE

whether in early girlhood or later on in adult years of the gentler sex is considered a dangerous and momentous period. Passed safely it means everything which is bright and beautiful, otherwise it may mean perpetual ailing, intense suffering, perhaps Death; now and then an Insane Asylum. It was after many years successful experience as a practising physician and constant study of the subject that I put up in popular form to be sold through the druggists, my remedy known as

and Cleansing Wash for the cure of all Female Complaints, no mattter from what cause. Without charge I answer all letters from those who wish advice on this most important subject; and furthermore I send two bottles free of Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon in this way any lady may assure herself of its great curative qualities before going to the expense of buying from the drug store.

CHANGE of LIFE.

Change of Life.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1876.

Dr. J. B. Marchisi: Dear Sir—Those ladies undergoing the "Change of Life" cannot give too much praise to your Catholicon, as it is just the medicine that those ladies should take. No doubt but what thousands of ladies have been relieved and cured besides myself. Several have come under my observation. Yours Truly,

MRS. SARAH MILSTED.

Brings Her Safely Through Change of Life.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 2, 1891.

Dr. Marchisi: Dear Sir—Ten years ago I saw your advertisement in one of our papers, and learned that I could be cured, so I procured one bottle of your Catholicon. In one week I was so much improved that I continued taking it, and it brought me safely through the "change of life" without an ache or pain of any kind. I have been buying and recommending it for the past ten years. Yours, etc.,

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

What Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

Wheat has ruled a shade higher to-day with moderate business. There was nothing of interest to the wheat trade except the daily statements of receipts and shipments. Freights on wheat from Buffalo via canal to New York are 3 1-2c. Advices from west and northwest are very bullish on corn and oats.

Beerbohm closed at 4 p. m. weaker on spot wheat and future 1-2d higher. Corn 3-4d higher. English country markets slow. Paris wheat 10 centimes and flour 40 centimes lower. Antwerp wheat weaker. Exports to-day including 62,000 bbls. flour were 693,000 bus.

Cash wheat opened at 78 1-2c, with large sales, closing at 79c asked. August and September relatively the same as cash, closing at 79c asked. October sales at 5-8@3-4c over August and December 3c over cash. No. 3 soft at 72 3-4@72 12c to 73c, ruling 5 3-4c under No. 2, closing for regular at 72 3-4. No. 4 soft at 67@68c, L. S. No. 2 hard Kansas sold for cash and September at 76c.

Rejected wheat sales at 67@68c for No. 1, and No. 2 by sample at 54c. Smutty wheat sales from 60@70c by sample.

Corn active and firm at 51 1-2c for No. 2, 50c for No. , 46c for No. 4, and 52c for No. 3 yellow. September sales early ot 51 1-2c; closed firm, with 52c bid for cash and September.

Oats neglected, with 33c bid for No. 2. Rye—No. 2 sales at 67c, with No. 3 offered at 61c.

Clover again very nervous, closing with sales after 'change for October at $6.00, and that bid. Opening sales were at $5.65, and from there irregularly up to close.

In New York September wheat closed at 83c, 3-8c up. September corn at 59 1-2c, an advance of 5-8c. September oats 1-2c up at 38 1-2c.

In Chicago September wheat closed 1-4c up at 77 1-8c. September corn 1-2c up at 52 1-2c asked, and September oats at 33 5-8c, or 7-8c better.

New York, Aug. 18.—Flour easier; city mill extra, $4.30@4.45 for West Indies; Minnesota low extra spring wheat, $2.90@3.25; fine, $1.65@2.10; superfine, $1.75@2.35. Wheat opened strong at 1-4@3-8c advance and then reacted 1-8c. At noon the market was steady; No. 2 red winter, cash, 83c; August, 82c; September, 82 3-4c; October, 83 3-4c. Corn opened weak and throughout the morning prices were irregular. The net result of the dealings was to leave values 1-4c higher; No. 2 mixed, cash, 65c; August, 65c bid; September, 59 1-2c; October, 58 3-8c. Oats firm; No. 2 mixed, cash, 37 1-2@37 3-4c; August, 38 1-4c. Rye dull; 65@68c. Barley neglected. Molasses quiet; New Orleans, 30@35c. Sugar, refined in fair demand and firm; cutloaf and crushed, 5 1-16@5 3-16c; granulated, 4 1-2@4 3-4c; powdered, 4 7-8c; cubes, 4 3-4@4 7-8c. Coffee steady. Rice nominal. Pork dull; old mess, $13.00@13.50. Lard quiet; September, $8.35. Butter steady; creamery state first extras, 21@24; western extra, 24@24 1-2c. Cheese quiet; state factory full cream, 9 1-2c. Eggs slow; state choice, 20 1-2@21c; western, 19 1-2@20c. Turpentine steady; 28 1-2@29c. Rosin dull; strained to good, $1.20@1.27 1-2. Tallow steady; prime city, 4 5-16@5 3-8c. Petroleum nominal. Freights quiet; grain to Liverpool, 2 1-2d.

New York, Aug. 18.—Money easy at 1 1-2 per cent. Exchange quiet; posted rates, 4.87 1-2@4.89; actual rates, 4.86 3-4@4.87 for 60 days and 4.88@4.88 1-4 for demand. Governments steady; currency 6's, 1.07 bid; 4's coupon, 1.16 bid; extended 2's registered, 1.00 bid.

Stocks were a little more active to-day during the morning hours. The advance ranged from 1-8 to 1 7-8 per cent. The greatest advance was in general electric and sugar trust. The market at 1 p. m. is dull.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Close: Wheat—September, 77 1-8c. Corn—September, 52 1-2c; October, 52 1-8@52 1-4c. Oats—September, 33 5-8c; October, 33 3-4c. Pork—September, $11.75. Lard—September, $8.00; October, $8.00. Ribs—September, $7.95.

Detroit, Aug. 18.—Close: Wheat—No. 2 red cash and August, 73; September, 78 1-2; December, 82 1-4; No. 1 white cash, 78. Corn—No. 2 cash, 53 1-2. Oats—No. 2 cash, 33.

Chicago Freights.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—The principal feature in freights to-day was switchmen's strike at Buffalo which tended to greatly interfere with movement of grain. Rates held at 3 1-2c wheat to Buffalo.

Cleveland.

Cleveland, Aug. 18.—Offerings of tonnage not as heavy as was expected, but market is hardly steady at 75 cents from Escanaba; $1 from Marquette and $1.10 from Ashland and Two Harbors to Ohio ports. Shippers still talk of marked falling off in freights during month.

Buffalo.

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—Elevators are all nearly filled. But little more grain can be received as long as the strike lasts. Coal freights at a standstill, and no charters. The strike is forcing canal up, and 3 1-2c was paid this morning, wheat to New York and oats at 2 5-8c. There is not much business yet.

Trouble with Strikers.

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—Striking tug firemen boarded tugs last night and drove the new men off. Fireman Dobey, in the tug Johnson, was assaulted while in the fire hold and badly injured.

Steamer Released.

Port Huron, Aug. 18.—Steamer Williams was released this morning by tugs Swain, Sumner and Champion after throwing overboard several tons of ore. This will make dangerous shoal in that locality and Lynn will place a stake over it for the benefit of vessel owners.

Port Huron.

Convention Notes.

The banquet hall has been beautifully decorated.

President Daly will probably be his own successor.

Treasurer Glennan is editor of the Norfolk Virginian.

The election of officers will be about the last thing this afternoon.

All the Philadelphia delegates will go to Put-in-Bay to-morrow.

The delegates occupied the hurricane deck during last evening's excursion.

Patrick Boland, of Springfield, O., was a new delegate at the convention to-day.

Treasurer M. Glennan arrived last evening and was one of the first at the convention hall this morning.

Lady Lankzawin.

GEN. HUSTED'S CONDITION.

Peekskill, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Gen. J. W. Husted's condition is but little changed this morning. He passed a comfortable night.

CORRECTING CHILDREN.

Parents Must Begin Early to Apply the Needed Remedy.

"Spare the rod and spoil the child" is one of the most venerable of maxims, and, if true, some one has a great deal to answer for in the way of spoiled children, says a writer in the New York Ledger. There has of late been a good deal of discussion in the public prints upon the subject of punishing children. To spank or not to spank, to apply the switch or to use moral suasion, to wield the slipper or to dissolve into tears and to plead with unruly offspring, to hang them up until their courage has died out, so to speak, and has left them docile, or to shut them in cellars, attics or dark closets—these and scores of other methods have been discussed until it would seem that the entire subject must be worn threadbare. And yet the infant disobeys, is rebellious, restive, defiant, perhaps violent, and something must be done. As a rule, in these cases, the long-suffering parent endures and waits, hopes the child will do better and postpones punishment until, alarmed at some new outbreak, patience gives way, and, whether it be switch, rattan, shingle, slipper or dusting-cloth, it matters little, the blows fall like rain on the offender, and continue, as a rule, until the whipper stops from sheer exhaustion of body and spirit. And, because there is no improvement in the child's conduct, it is taken for granted that punishment is a failure.

And so it is when administered in this fashion. A child should never be corrected when the parent is angry. This is one of the fundamental principles of good government. It is claimed by many disciplinarians that a child should never know what a blow means. This is all very well for some children, but there are natures which cannot be controlled in this way. There is occasionally a disposition which nothing but force will subdue, and, even then, it must be so forceful as to awe and terrify the spirit of insubordination into unquestioning obedience. There is little use in parleying with such natures. The struggle usually comes early, and must be met without the least hesitation. Once give way to the child's will, and it may rouse a spirit of resistance which long months, perhaps years, of subsequent training will fail to conquer.

By teaching a child that its present and its future welfare depend on its own actions, you foster a true and noble independence that is sure to have its own reward. Let the bonds of restraint fit very easily; if the child never feels them, so much the better; but let them be strong enough to control. Good laws are absolute freedom for good spirits, and right is beyond all law and has no need of it, for it is the living embodiment of all law.

Obedience should begin with life; indeed, should be an inheritance.

Whether parents are to govern by the rod, or by firm and gentle means, they must begin early and do their correcting carefully, and never attempt to enforce rules unless their own nerves are steady and their heads and tempers are under perfect control.

Splendid fishing at Whitmore, Zuke and Strawberry Lakes on T., A. A. & N. M. R'y. Two trains each way every Sunday. Round trip 75 cents.

SUNDAY TRAINS

On the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan Railway.

Commencing Sunday, August 21, the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railway will put on two Sunday trains each way between Toledo and Owosso. Trains will leave Toledo 7:30 a. m. and 5:00 p. m., and will arrive at Toledo at 11:15 a. m. and 9:15 p. m. This will give Toledo people an opportunity to spend Sunday with friends in Michigan, to enjoy a day's fishing at Whitmore Lake or at Zuke or Strawberry lakes, Hamburg Junction, and return the same day. They can also visit Ann Arbor, the "Athens of America," where is located the University of Michigan, the largest college on the American continent. Tickets good for Sunday only will be sold to Whitmore Lake at 75 cents for the round trip. All other stations at one fare for the round trip. W. H. BENNETT, G. P. A.

ANNUAL EXCURSION

To Soldiers' Home, Dayton, O., Tuesday, Aug. 23, '92, via C., H. & D. and Home Avenue Railways.

Special train leaves 6:00 a. m. Fare from Toledo is $2.50.

Prof. Weitzmann's aerial wire performance excels everything of this nature before attempted.

Performance commences 2 p. m. on the grounds, free to excursionists.

The Home is a panorama of beauty at this season; the floral feature is at its best.

Lake Side Park, a recent adjunct to the Home, is teeming with diversified means of pleasure.

Full five hours at the Home. Returning, train leaves Dayton 6:00 p. m.

See agents C., H. & D., or write E. O. McCORMICK, G. P. & T. A.

The second annual moonlight excursion of the Clerks' Mutual Protective union will take place on Thursday night, Aug. 18, on the steamer City of Toledo. A fine concert will be given by the Whiting Male Quartet, and other local musical talent. Tony Leon's full orchestra will provide music for dancing. The boat leaves the foot of Madison street promptly at 8:30. A good time is assured. Tickets, 25c, Turtle Light and return.

We Do Not

Carry a stock of inferior Diamonds.

Deal in imperfect and poorly cut stones.

Consider it good business policy to ask our patrons to invest their money in a class of Diamonds whose market value is uncertain and which has a constant tendency to depreciate.

We Do

Carry the most perfect assortment of fine Diamonds in the state.

Offer Diamonds that are perfect in color and cutting and which have been selected with great care by members of our firm in Paris, Amsterdam and London.

Surround buyers with every possible safeguard, and guarantee their investment perfectly secure.

Diamonds purchased from us will not depreciate in value, as all fine gems are steadily advancing in price.

WHAT BROKE HIM UP.

"I was in Sioux City during the recent great rise in the Big Muddy," said T. P. Sinclair, a prominent farmer and stock raiser of South Dakota, "and there witnessed a sight that haunts me.

"Pretty much everything that would float came swirling down the angry river—wrecks of buildings, household goods and gods—and among the drift was, what do you think? a cradle? One of the old-fashioned wooden sort, and in it sat a white-headed little tot, apparently about a year old. There was not a boat within hailing distance; the cradle was fully 300 yards from the shore and the river was running like a millrace.

"I started on a dead run along the bank, hoping to find a boat of some sort, but before I had gone 25 yards the cradle tipped over, spilling its little occupant into the muddy waters. I am pretty well seasoned, let me tell you. I walked over rows of dead men at Donelson and Shiloh, have shot Indians and helped hang cow thieves, but that sight at Sioux City broke me. I just sat down and cried like a woman."—Colorado Sun.

The costliest paintings of modern times Meissonier's "1814," and Millet's "The Angelus." M. Chauchard gave 850,000 francs ($170,000), for "1814," and 750,000 francs ($150,000), for "The Angelus." Mr. Henry Hilton in 1887 paid 66,000 for Meissonier's "Friedland, 1807," and presented it to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

An interesting landmark of the past is All Hallows church at Snow Hill, Worcestershire county, Md., which has just passed through a perilous process of improvement. The parish is nearly 200 years old, and the church edifice was reared in 1734. The earliest church was built of logs, but the present building is of brick imported from England and paid for with tobacco raised by a general levy upon the parish.

Great preparations are being made to make the excursion given by the Clerks' Mutual Protective union the grandest moonlight ride ever leaving the Madison street wharf. There will be Toledo's great musical favorites, the Whiting Male Quartet, and other local talent will assist in making the evening an enjoyable one. Tony Leon's full orchestra will provide the music for dancing. Remember the date, Thursday, Aug. 18. Tickets, 25c; can be had at the different stores and on the dock on the night of the excursion.

The most costly book in the world is declared to be a Hebrew Bible now in the Vatican. In 1512 it is said that Pope Jules II. refused to sell the Bible for its weight in gold, which would amount to $103,000. That is the greatest price ever offered for a book.
